LOWER TAX RATES ARE PREDICTED

Elective Officials Will Be Held Responsible For Amount of Levy

STATE TAX COMMISSION

Will Investigate Cause If Tax Burden Is Not Lessened Declares Governor Cox in Speech at Athens, Ohio.

Athens, April 10.—Blame for the tax rate not being decreased after assessors have secured larger returns on the duplicate than ever before must rest with elective officials responsible for the amount of the levy, asserted Governor Cox at boosters meetings here yesterday. The governor said if these officials did not do their share to lessen the tax burden the state tax commission would investigate the cause.

Governor Cox complimented Dr. Alston Ellis, president of Ohio University, for his work in building up that institution. The governor recounted the episode when 28 years ago, Dr. Ellis as Butler county school examiner, granted the future governor his first certificate to teach school.

While discussing farm subjects in general, the governor contended just taxation was a vital matter to the farmers. He quoted a statement recently made by T. S. Adams of the Wisconsin state tax commission that the best taxing machinery of any state in the Union is in Ohio.

Going further into this subject, the governor said:

"In Wisconsin the income tax assessors are appointed by the state tax commission. The same effort that is now being made to discredit the appointive system in Ohio was exerted last year in Wisconsin. Those who pay on incomes contended that they ought to have the right to elect their own assessors. I need not say to you that the purpose of this is to obviate the need for any elaboration. The people, however, after a complete test of the system, voted overwhelmingly to continue it. And I make the prediction that the same thing will be done in Ohio. When we see the monumental sums that are returned as personal property for taxation this year, it is going to be apparent that while they run into millions of dollars, the delinquents constitute a vast minority; so that the majority of the people have been returning their property, while a comparatively few, whose possessions are very extensive, have not subjected themselves to taxation. Where a single individual under the new system returns in personal property $500,000 which was not listed last year, it is apparent that by this delinquency there was kept out of the duplicate the equivalent to returns made by 500 owners of humble homes who turned them in at $1000 each."

This is something to think about. It is a spectacle which we can profitably analyze, and it indexes an abuse which has been going on under so-called republican institutions of government where equal rights are guaranteed to all and special privileges are supposed to be extended to none. Is it any wonder that the rich tax dodgers of Ohio have been willing to contribute large sums of money for the purpose of maintaining a propaganda operated for the purpose of alarming the farmers? The highest compliment to the Warnes law is the opposition which was made to it in the first instance by the big tax dodgers of the state who subsequently succeeded by their campaign of misrepresentation, in convincing some farmers that they would suffer by the change. However, the truth is breaking through the walls of falsehood. You can't per the truth up very long anywhere, and it is a mighty difficult thing to confine it in a state where the citizenship is so intelligent as it is in Ohio. It is needless for the propagandists of falsehood to contend any longer that the new system will not put hidden property on the duplicate. But their plea now is that while the duplicate will be added to, there is no guarantee that the rate will be decreased. In this connection let me remind them that the force of their own observation confirms the basic theory of the Warnes law, and that is, that responsibility must be centered.

If in Athens county you are given an increased duplicate and still your tax rate is not decreased then we can say to you in full truth that the appointive officials who have listed the property for taxation have rendered full duty, while the elective officers—your auditor, your prosecutor, and the mayors of your larger cities—have failed in their duty. I make the prediction, however, that the insistence for decreased tax rates will spread by spring time all over the state. The state tax commission has certain powers given to it under the law, and while it will not render itself offensive to the legislature, it will not be deterred.

You'd Listen

If a stranger came to you some day with a smile, And said, "I've an offer to make you, By which you may pick out a present worth while, And to get it I'm sure will not break you"— Would you sit down and listen until he got through, Or would you say, "Beat it, I want none of you?"— You'd listen.

If he showed you a purse full of bright, yaller gold, An automobile and a "flasher," A great mass of other things, values untold, Every item of which was a dasher, Would you be interested and want to know more, Or would you say: "Take 'em all back to the store?"— You'd listen.

If he proved to you clearly it cost not a sou To get one of those splendid prizes, Would you tell him frankly they're too good for you, And you couldn't stand such surprises— When hundreds of others were trying to win 'em— And simply confess you're not able to skin 'em?— You wouldn't.

Would you let every good opportunity skid, While others were beating you to it, And stand idly by a-scratchin' your lid, When you knew all the time you could do it? Would it be human nature to pass such a chance? Would you work with "I can't" or go down with "I can'ts"?— You'd win!

Body of Man Cut Into Four Pieces In Dredge, Then Passed Half Mile Through 14 Inch Pipe

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Newark, N. J., April 10.—Captain John Hanson, master of a stone barge, was knocked from the barge into Newark Bay yesterday afternoon and drawn into a government sand sucking dredge half a mile away and then cast, through a fourteen inch pipe two thousand feet long, out into the Newark Meadows. In passing through the dredge the body was cut into four pieces.

The barge, May Madison, was being towed from Newark to New York by a tug. In passing through the draw of a railroad bridge the barge butted into a stone pier and the jolt threw Captain Hanson overboard.

An hour after Captain Hanson had fallen from the barge the four men at the further end of the pipe on the meadows were surprised to see parts of a man's body shoot out of the pipe with the flood of sand and water.

The sections formed a complete man's body. In a pocket papers were found identifying the body as that of Captain Hanson.

Remarkable Increases In Tax Valuations Are Reported By Assessors

With nine of the twenty-nine tax assessment districts reported by the assessors, indications are that remarkable increases in tax valuations are to be developed in Licking county this year, which will provide an unprecedented revenue with which the county may meet its requirements.

While the stamp of official verification has not been placed on all of the nine district reports, five have been verified and in each of these a substantial gain has been recorded.

Fallsburg township, Granville village, McKean township, Washington township, Hopewell township, Liberty township, Newton township, Etna township and Utica village have been reported. The last five of these have been verified as to the matter of increase in valuation over the returns for last year.

Thus far it has been found that the increase is greater in cities and villages than in the rural communities.

For instance, Utica village shows an increase of approximately $105,000, or 40 per cent.

Liberty township's increase is $42,760, or 18 per cent.

Assessor George W. Helmick reports $72,000 increase for Etna township.

Newton township's increased $60,000.

In Hopewell township, Assessor F. Morgan Hursey, a brother of County Auditor J. W. Hursey, reported an increase of $39,670, which is 20 per cent more than last year's return.

The return in this township is naturally comparatively small as a total, but on intangible property alone the assessor reported $108,460 this year as against $92,360 last year, an increase of $16,100.

There are 28 districts in the county, exclusive of Newark, which comprises one district in itself. It is likely one ward of Newark will be reported the coming week.

District Assessor W. H. Anderson reports that his deputies find very little difficulty in bringing out intangible valuations, and that objections on the part of taxpayers are remarkably few.

It is said one assessor recently added $75,000 to one man's return alone. The individual in question offered no objection to the assessor's discovery. Instead, he looked puzzled for a moment, then smiled and asked:

"How'd you find it out?"

It would appear that half of the complaint about false listing of intangible property is merely a bugaboo, according to one assessor's opinion.

"I don't think assessors in the past have gone after it properly," he said.

ASSESSORS REPORT A GREAT INCREASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, April 10.—Voluntarily personal property returns from the four wards of Cleveland show a total of $1,968,000, an increase of $243,460 over the same wards for last year, the tax commission announced today.

GUNMEN MUST DIE IN CHAIR

Counsel For Doomed Gangsters to Make a Final Appeal

A WARNING IS ISSUED

By "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg to His East Side Pals Says Synagogue is Best Home and God Their Best Friend.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 10.—Counsel for the four gunmen awaiting execution for the Rosenthal murder, announced this afternoon that they had found two new witnesses whose testimony they believed would gain a reprieve for their clients and might lead to a new trial. The witnesses they said, had remained in the background for fear of their lives, but they came forward with affidavits today because they believed that unless they told what they knew the gunmen would go to the electric chair.

Lionel Kringle, one of the prisoners' attorneys, said:

"The affidavits of these witnesses will be submitted to a supreme court justice this afternoon or tonight and also laid before Governor Glynn. Until this happens, the witnesses' names, according to the assurance given them, will not be revealed."

The first witness says that he stood in front of the Garden Restaurant three nights before Herman Rosenthal was murdered and heard Jack Rose say to Harry Vallon as Rosenthal emerged: "There goes Rosenthal, it is your chance to get him." Coming out of the Elks club on the night of the murder he saw the gray automobile in which the murderers made their escape, fly past with Sam Schepps on the running board and Bridgie Webber and Harry Vallon in the car.

"The second witness saw Vallon and Webber shoot at Rosenthal during the fusillade in front of the Hotel Metropole."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 10.—An affidavit purporting to establish an alibi for "Dago Frank" Crofici, a note from Frank Moss, former assistant district attorney, attacking the credibility of two witnesses at the trial of Charles Becker and the gunmen; and an alleged discrepancy in the decision of the court of appeals which reserved Becker's conviction, were the points about which counsel for the gunmen, doomed to die on Monday for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, centered their fight today. The affidavit, that of "Pinkie" Reo, an employee of a Harlem dance hall who swears that he saw "Dago Frank" far from the scene of the murder about the time it was committed, was rushed to Governor Glynn by special messenger.

The note written by Frank Moss concerning the two witnesses—Luban and Margolis—was placed in the hands of C. G. F. Wahle, the gunmen's chief counsel today.

"Mr. Moss' note," said Wahle "shows that he didn't believe Luban was truthful. Yet he placed him on the stand as a witness. We shall get this note before the governor as soon as possible. If we again fail to move the governor, then we will take the whole matter before some justice of the Supreme court."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 10.—The friends of the four gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison Monday morning for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal today based their hopes for a reprieve for the condemned men on the alleged evidence discovered by E. B. Browne, a former active rabbi which he was preparing to present to a supreme court justice, together with an application for a new trial.

This evidence, a note or memorandum, Mr. Browne submitted to Governor Glynn yesterday. Its author, it was admitted by Frank Moss, until recently assistant to district attorney Charles S. Whitman who prosecuted the gunmen, it read:

"Be careful of anything from Luban and Margolis and was sent to Former Governor Sulzer who at the time was preparing for his trial for impeachment. It was reported that Luban and Margolis were to be employed to see evidence in behalf of Sulzer. Luban was a witness against Becker, the gunmen and Margolis against Becker. This note Rabbi Browne wrote, discovered. (Continued on page 3, Col. 2.)"

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Bristol, Pa., April 10.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of William English, 14 years old, who had been missing since the blizzard of March 1, was cleared today when his body was found in a field near here. It is believed that the boy was caught in the snowstorm and becoming exhausted was buried under a huge drift. The body was found about 200 feet from where the boy lived and was revealed by the melting snow.

Wealthy Morosini Heiress and Policeman Husband Kept From Her Home Now by Twenty Guards

For many years before Giulia Morosini, daughter of a very wealthy broker of New York, who got most of his wealth by acting for Jay Gould was kept secluded in her home in New York City. She was permitted to meet few men, and then only under the eye of her father. One daughter, unable to bear this life, had run off and married, and the father didn't forgive her, at least not for years.

Shortly after the aged man died Giulia was saved by a New York traffic policeman. He was a fine figure of a man on his horse. She fell in love with him, and later married him. Now she has barred him from the magnificent home on the Hudson River left her by her father. Twenty guards to keep him out have been stationed on the grounds.

First Court In Ohio to Hear Divorce Cases Only, Established In Cleveland

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cleveland, April 10.—The first "divorce court" in Ohio was convened here today with common pleas judge William B. Neff presiding. The court will attend solely to cases involving marital difficulties. The institution of the court followed the decision of the judges of the common pleas court, that the handling of divorce needs reformation, and that the number of such cases should be reduced.

Uniformity of divorce litigation, complete investigation of all cases, assuring decrees to only those entitled to them, the holding up of all decrees for sixty days after trial, and broader definitions of gross neglect and extreme cruelty, are among the reforms planned.

There will be a court reporter to make a complete record of all trials.

Steamer Picks Up Seal Pelts Believed to Have Come From Southern Cross

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Johns, N. F., April 10.—Seal pelts believed to have come from the missing Southern Cross were found 70 miles south of St. Mary's Bay by the steamer Kyle which has been searching the coast for a week. This is the first definite clew to the fate of the vessel which was last reported off the southern coast on March 31.

The pelts are skins which have been recently removed and to which considerable fat usually adheres, causing them to float rapidly. It is believed that they either were washed from the decks of the sealer or floated to the surface after she went down. None of the sealing fleet which came in last week from the St. Lawrence grounds, where the Southern Cross had been seal hunting, lost any pelts off the coast in the vicinity of St. Mary's Bay.

The Kyle reported by wireless that she would continue the search though the weather was foggy.

MELTING SNOW REVEALS BODY OF MISSING BOY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Bristol, Pa., April 10.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of William English, 14 years old, who had been missing since the blizzard of March 1, was cleared today when his body was found in a field near here. It is believed that the boy was caught in the snowstorm and becoming exhausted was buried under a huge drift. The body was found about 200 feet from where the boy lived and was revealed by the melting snow.

OIL TANKS STRUCK BY MISSILES

During Fighting At Tampico, One Fired and Oil Is Running In-to River

AMERICANS ARE SAFE

And Number of Refugees Have Been Taken Aboard United States Warship Des Moines—Two Women Reported Hanged.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, April 10.—Continued fighting at Tampico with great damage to the valuable oil properties there was reported to the state and navy departments today in dispatches from the warships on the Mexican coast. In official statement at the state department described the situation as to the oil properties this way: "Several oil tanks have been struck, one is on fire and oil is running into the river. A number of refugees are on the warships."

The fighting at Tampico was described as heavy with the rebels in possession of Dona Cecilia and Arbolgrange.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported that Rear Admiral Mayo had delivered another letter to General Zaragosa about the shots fired into the Pierce oil plant from federal gunboats. Grave fears are felt here that there may be wholesale destruction of the properties.

Assurances were received that all American women and children have been gathered into places of safety.

Latest reports to the navy department were summarized in this statement: "At 3 p. m. Thursday Admiral Mayo reported from Tampico to Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz that there had been but desultory firing since daybreak. Two women have been reported hanged for attempting to release prisoners from Cuartol. A constitutional prisoner has been reported hanged for having bullets in his possession."

"At 10 p. m. Admiral Mayo reported further that there was a lull in the fighting during the afternoon. The Vera Cruz moved up to the vicinity of Toluca Road at 3 p. m. and did some firing. There was also fighting in trenches near Altamira. Admiral Mayo has delivered another letter to General Zaragosa relating to damage by gunboats to the Pierce oil plant. An oil tank at Arbolgrange was on fire at 3:30."

"Sixty women and children have been taken on board the Des Moines and all American women and children have been brought up from points on the river below the city except at LaBarra. Those who were there have gone aboard the German tanker Osego. Admiral Mayo emphasizes that refugees desire refuge, not removal."

Admiral Daniels said this morning that he had not been informed of the issuance by Admiral Mayo of any ultimatum to the federal commander at Tampico to cease firing from the gunboat into the city. Moteray is said to be quiet.

MEMBERS OF HUERTA JUNTA ARE EXECUTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Nogales, Sonora, Mex., April 10.—Standing blindfolded on the brink of their open graves, Francisco Fimbres and Jose M. Ganoba, members of a Huerta junta on the American side of the line, were executed in the cemetery today. Fimbres was captured several days ago while carrying a message from the junta to Ganoba, who was then at Montezuma.

COUPON NO. 52

Newark Advocate Booklovers' Contest

Title
Author
My Name
My Address
(52) APRIL 10, 1914. (52)

Clip out your coupons neatly, and fill them out clearly and plainly, remembering that in the event of a tie for any prize between two or more contestants, neatness and clear writing will win the judges' favor. The picture is to be a part of the coupon. Do not detach the coupon from the picture.

Send no answers whatever to the Advocate until the contest is ended by the publication of Picture No. 70. Any answers received before that time will be destroyed and will not be counted. Read the rules carefully.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest.

Any person may compete in this contest who lives either in Licking, Delaware, Knox, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Fairfield or Franklin counties, Ohio, except employees of the Advocate or members of their families.

Answers to the picture must be written upon the coupon blank which will be printed every day with each picture during the seven-day publication days the contest will last. Both picture and blank must be clipped from the paper, and the blank properly filled in with the name of book and the author's name together with the name and address of the contestant written clearly and plainly in the space provided. Not more than one person's name may be written on any coupon.

Each picture will represent the title of only one book, but there may be some pictures that suggest the title of several books. For the benefit of contestants, and to allow for this variety of solution, any contestant may give as many as five answers to any picture, at will; but not more than one solution may be written on any coupon. If the contestant gives two answers as likely to include the correct one, two coupons must be used; if three answers, three coupons, and so on.

In each instance, whether the contestant gives one answer or five answers to any picture, both the picture and coupon must be used for each of the answers; and not more than five answers to any picture will be permitted.

If any one of the five answers that may be given to any picture is correct, the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances.

Prizes will be awarded to every contestant, by the Contest Judges, who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons. Thus, if a contestant gives the correct answers to 70 of the pictures and uses only 70 coupons, that contestant will rate higher in the prize awards than one who uses 140 coupons or any higher number up to 350 for supplying the 70 correct answers.

If two or more persons, supplying the same number of correct answers, have used the same number of coupons for their answers, the highest rating will be given to the one whose answers are most neatly prepared, in the opinion of the judges.

No contestant will be allowed to submit more than one set of answers, which must include not less than 70 or more than 350 coupons, with accompanying pictures.

Positively no solution may be sent in to the Contest Editor until every one of the seventy pictures has been printed. Answers in complete sets, as just specified above, will then be received in this office, and should be addressed to "Contest Editor," Booklovers' Contest, Advocate, Newark Ohio. The awards will be made strictly according to the correctness of each set of answers, and the correctness shall be determined by the Finding List, the catalogue issued by us as governing.

ing the Booklovers' Contest. This catalogue can be obtained from the Advocate office for 25c (27 cents if by mail), and will include in its 5000 titles every one used in the contest. Awards will be announced in this newspaper after the close of the contest.

It is not absolutely necessary to send in solutions on blanks clipped from the Advocate, as duplicate pictures may be drawn by the contestant, if he or she so desires, or duplicate blanks may be obtained at the office of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headache, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Convince Men Required to Win the People's Confidence

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Newark Daily Advocate.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with a few days. Agents, Hall's drug store.

The worst thing about the rest cure is that it is so apt to become a habit.

Some men seem to think they are above reproach just because they happen to be stilted.

Don't judge by appearances. Even a genius may have his hair cut and wear good clothes.

CHILDREN FILE CHARGES AGAINST THEIR FATHER

Two little girls, Goldie Hart-sough, 14, and Louise Hart-sough, 9, have been subpoenaed to appear in juvenile court next Monday to testify against their father, William Hart-sough, 42. Charges against Hart-sough are sensational.

The affidavit filed with Judge Hunter was sworn to by Joseph Rodman, Newark, who is a brother-in-law of the accused. Hart-sough was brought in Thursday night from his home in Alexandria by Juvenile Officer John Lwyer, and lodged in the county jail.

Friday morning he was arraigned before Judge Hunter on the charge of contributing to delinquency of his two children, entered a plea of not guilty, and was returned to jail in default of $500 bond. The case was set for trial Monday morning and Hart-sough was informed he could have an attorney if he desired one.

Rodman, as the state's complainant, is represented by Attorney Jos. W. Horner.

C. G. F. Wahle, counsel for the gunmen today prepared to make his last appeal to Governor Glynn for a stay of execution until after the Becker trial. He based his arguments on the signatures of ten of the jurors who tried the gunmen to an appeal for executive clemency, and also on the fact that the court of appeals had discredited the testimony of Luban. In the death house, the condemned men received their relatives daily and hold long conferences with their spiritual advisers. To his brother, Morris, "Whitey Lewis" Seidenschner related for the hundredth time, that he was innocent.

Rosenberg sent a word of warning and advice to his gangster and gunman associates on the East Side through Rabbi Goldstein, his spiritual adviser. He said: "I want you to tell all the boys on the East Side—that crowd on Second avenue that I used to run around with, that they can't beat the game."

"They may get away with it for a while and think that they have the game whipped, but look at me—look where I am now. They are making the mistake I made. I could have avoided it, but I thought that I was smarter than others. Here is where I am now."

"Just give them this message, Doctor, and tell them it's from me. I ought to know and they know I ought to know. Tell them that the synagogue is their best home and God is their best friend. When they understand that, Doctor, they will not land as I have landed. Carry that word to them and give it to them straight."

New York, April 10.—Edward J. Krauer, 59, a prominent attorney, once associated in the practice of law with President Chester A. Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After A Few Doses Are Taken.

Sleep disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past middle age of life.

The new discovery, Croxone, overcomes all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the

Madame Isbell's Beauty Lesson

LESSON IX—PART III. THE PRESENT FASHIONS—ARE THEY BECOMING TO THE AVERAGE WOMAN?

Physical Demands of the New Modes.

To properly and attractively wear the new fashions the physical charms must be considerable. These gowns are not made for careless and indifferent dressers. Women now must look sharply after their demerits and heavy or awkward figures, discolored and lined throats must either be reformed or these fashions avoided. If figures are too stout, or if the movements of the body are growing stiff or heavy, physical exercises must be taken up to correct these faults. The collarless gown demands a good throat line; the long, thin sleeves that many of the French models show emphasize the attractiveness of a beautiful hand, or point out the deficiencies of a badly cared for one.

Draped skirts, whether they are split or not, only appear to advantage if the carriage is graceful. The walk must be considered. In short, these fashions are designed for a certain type and can only be worn to advantage when that type is in a measure suggested.

How Fashions Originate.

All important changes in fashions are born in Paris. They may be changed and adapted to suit the women of various countries, but they originate in France, the meeting point of the big dress artists of the world. French women are very quick to adopt new ideas, and, when designing the new models, the dressmakers have in mind certain French beauties, that happen at that time to be much talked of, some of them on the stage and some in society. They look to these women to display the new ideas to perfection.

For many years Cecile Sorel, a well-known actress and famous beauty, had a strong influence on French fashions. Mademoiselle Sorel is a large, handsome woman, not young, who shows off sumptuous gowns to great advantage. A new type of beauty, however, has now arisen—a spindless, corselless, unconventional type, what the French call the gamine, which literally means the street girl. This is not so high a type of beauty as Mademoiselle Sorel's, and the fashions for which it is responsible are justly called "freak styles." However, in transplanting them to America and for the use of refined women these gowns have been divested of much of their vulgarity.

SUSPENDED FINE IS GIVEN YOUTHS AFTER SERVING JAIL TERM

John Williams and Brady Whyde were found guilty of a assault and battery when brought before Probate Judge Hunter, Friday morning, and sentenced to pay fines of $10 each and costs of prosecution. The fines were suspended.

Williams and Whyde have been in the county jail since Jan. 22, as a result of a neighborhood fight. Charles Vining, a third defendant, is out under bond. His case will be taken up later. In passing sentence upon the defendants, both of whom are youthful, Judge Hunter warned them about their future behavior, instructed them to go to work immediately and to shun intoxicants.

Attorney J. F. Langstaffer represented them.

BEGGAR INSULTED THOSE REFUSING DEMAND FOR ALMS

Edward Beecher, a cripple, selling shoe strings on the streets Thursday afternoon was arrested by Patrolman Hurlbath on a charge of begging and insulting those who refused his request for money. He used vile and insulting language to a business man who told the beggar he had nothing for him. In police court Mayor Bigbee assessed a fine of $25 and costs, ordered him committed to the workhouse but agreed to suspend the sentence if Beecher left town immediately. He used a ticket he had purchased and left the city Friday morning. But one other case received attention from the mayor, a plain drunk being given a suspended fine of $5 and costs.

FEDERAL LEAGUE WILL HAVE OWN MINOR LEAGUES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Louis, April 10.—Two minor leagues are negotiating for an alliance with the Federal league, according to a statement made today by Otto Stifel, chief stockholder in the St. Louis Federals.

"We will have our own minor leagues next season," he said. "Indications are that we can have as many as we want. We have a deal on with two minor leagues, both of high classification, which are almost ready to jump now."

"We must acquire a minor league to farm out players. Every man who gambled with us this year and signed our contracts at a time when we did not have much proof of our ability, will be taken care of. Their salary is assured for their life as players. We have their names enrolled and will always look after them."

PLEADED GUILTY TO THE MURDER OF HIS WIFE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Galesburg, Ill. April 10.—Robert Higgins today pleaded guilty to the murder of his wife, whom it was charged he shot to death because of his love for Julia Flake, his stepdaughter. Miss Flake was not arraigned for collusion in the crime although she had written letters to an uncle and his son requesting them to kill her mother. Owing to her youthful age and the influence exerted by Higgins it was decided that she was not criminally at fault.

Wisdom from Washington

Washington, April 10.—[Special.]—It is the people back home who count. They may not know it, but that great mass of voters, called constituents, are shaping legislation these days or at least are determining the vote of members on various propositions.

"How are the fellows back home going to take it?" "I would like to get a line on how it strikes the fellows back home." "My fellows want me to do this or that," and similar expressions are heard, indicating that members of congress are anxious to please their people. It is natural, for if the people are displeased the return of the congressman is unlikely.

This is particularly true these days, when a man has to run the gauntlet of two tryouts before the people—once for the nomination and again for the election. Even a big party majority cannot save him with the primary system and the people against him.

Balance With Bull Moose.
Whatever they may say publicly, the Republicans have little hope of carrying the next house. The bull moose party stands in the way. "There would be no question of electing a Republican house if it were not for the Progressives," remarked one of the keenest political observers on the Republican side. "With the bull moose putting candidates into nearly every district success is hopeless."

There are Progressives who hope to elect enough members to hold the balance of power in the next house, but the best politicians among them are not talking that way.

Pensions Always Win.
Possibly it is popular in some sections to fight pensions. More than a quarter of a century ago "Buck" Kilgore of Texas was making a record fighting private pension legislation. Cleveland stood with him and vetoed many pension bills and was defeated for reelection in 1888 on that as well as on other counts.

Texas continues to furnish men who fight pension legislation, but there is always a big majority which votes liberal pensions for civil war veterans and for soldiers of other wars. And so it was in regard to a general pension bill for soldiers of the Spanish war and Philippine insurrection. It passed the house by a vote of 256 to 74.

Fitzgerald Scolded.
The appropriations committee of the house brought in its proposition to reduce mileage to the amount of $100,000. The house rejected that and tacked on a provision for an increase of $300 each for clerk hire, a total of $132,000. Then Chairman Fitzgerald scolded. He called attention to the sweeping denunciations by Democrats of Republican extravagance and sarcastically said the exhibition just given "would appeal to the country in the fall elections."

A Marshall Decision.
The senate was in one of its controversial spasms one day, and Senator Pomeroy of Ohio asked:
"Mr. President, have I the floor?"
"With two others," promptly replied the vice president.

Poetry and Patriotism.
Poetry figured quite extensively in the debates on the Panama canal tolls. I notice as the speeches are ground out in the Congressional Record, Champ Clark broke into poetry frequently. Those members who desired to twist the lion's tail a bit coupled their poetry with patriotic outbursts.

Another Saving.
In the interest of economy it has been suggested that senators and representatives should not send so many documents through the mails. Suggestion of a limitation in this respect brought forth the following from Senator Robinson of Arkansas. "Heretofore I have not discriminated much in sending out documents, but if there is a limitation in the future I will only send out my own speeches and remarks, which are of great interest to the public."

Walking Chief Justice.
Although past his seventieth birthday and retired—on paper to make a place for Professor Taft—the chief justice of the United States is a mighty young looking man, and he walks from his home to the capitol and back every day without any trouble. When anybody reads a rumor that Chief Justice White is going to retire he had better take it with a grain of salt.

Miss Marion Leonard

Miss Marion Leonard has shown there is something in moving picture work for the actor from the financial side alone. For this last summer she commanded a contract with the Monopol Film company which provided for a salary of $1000 a week for forty-two weeks of the year, which made her the highest priced moving picture actress in the world.

"The Rose of Yesteryear."
—Warner Feature.

This elaborate story, which is artistically worked out with a care for details that makes the unusual complications clear, is based on the problem of mixed identities with the unexpected results arising. It is set forth in the form of the reminiscence of the woman of middle age who has lost her romance, and the film is the story of her past life which she relates to her young niece. Miss Marion Leonard is featured as the heroine, acting her role with careful emotional interpretation that holds the observer's attention closely.

Years before two babies were brought to a foundling home, a brother and sister whose relationship was sustained only by the two similar pairs of shoes and their two little plaid shawls. They were adopted by two families, each departing with the baby, the shoes and the shawls. The baby boy was taken by a minister and his wife and on the way out the little shoes were dropped. Another baby had been chosen by a wealthy family, soon after the little boy's adoption, and on going down the steps the shoes were noticed and picked up under the impression that they belonged to their baby. When the minister and his wife reached their home they missed the small shoes and hastened to gather up the missing link in the evidence as soon as possible, going back to the home to try to discover the shoes. Since the shoes had disappeared absolutely the matron wrote a note connecting the identity between the two children by means of the shawls, which the boy's foster father took away with him.

Years passed until the babies were grown into youth, when the complications of personalities worked havoc in their happiness. The girl, the foster child of wealth, was beautiful and beloved by a splendid young fellow whose affection she returned. He was a foundling child, too—in fact, the third one that had been adopted after the brother and sister, as closely ran the chain of coincidence, and his well-to-do foster mother was most anxious to urge upon him a marriage with another girl which would bring them a large fortune.

The other girl was as eager as the mother and between them they used every variety of persuasion in their power. The girl knew of the shoe antecedents and the slender thread of identification established by the small shoes in his mother's possession. One day she visited the chosen sweetheart in order to protest against the proposed marriage and to tell her how much more it would profit the man to marry where the fortune lay and found her carrying a small pair of shabby shoes, the exact mates of those in the possession of the man's foster mother. Noting this she made her plea as she intended and then went back to tell of her discovery.

Right after her departure the man came, the girl told of the interference and he persuaded her to come at once and be married. They hastened to a justice of the peace and, except for the doddling slowness of the old gentleman, would have been safely made man and wife, but before the ceremony was completed the mother and the other girl broke in, proclaiming the two were brother and sister and displaying the shoes as proof of their assertion.

The girl went home heartbroken, packed up a bag, took her maid and departed for a small village where there would be no chance of meeting any one. Here her grief was very apparent and the young minister attempted to comfort her, drawing from her the story of her unfortunate love. The matter of the shoes settled things immediately, for again the chain of coincidence was in evidence. The minister went to his house for a moment and returned with the note the head of the foundling home had written for his father and the little shawl which matched the one in the girl's possession. With her brother's help she hastened back to town and arrived at the home of the man she loved just when a great throng of people, festively dressed, were going up the steps.

Somewhat surprised, she and her brother went on up to the porch. But they didn't go in. They heard the wedding music of Lohengrin and they waited by the French window, which commanded a view of the interior of the parlor where they saw the man and the girl united in marriage.

With that episode the woman concludes her story. "And that is why I never married, my dear."

"The Silver Loving Cup."
—Imp.

This is the story of the foolish wife who neglects her child, insists on continual excitement, and forces her husband away from his serious duties as surgeon in a hospital. She goes about with another man and gambles when her husband refuses to accompany her, and when he goes with her, he is reprimanded at the hospital for his defection. He is given a silver loving cup by his brother physicians for his success in finding a cure for a supposed incurable disease just before the domestic and professional crash that takes from his wife, child, practice, and his hope in life. He goes down in the world, taking with him from his old life only the loving cup, but his practice among the poor soon revives his medical reputation, and he is restored to his old position in the hospital. Here one day is brought as a charity case his wife. He is able to cure her, and they begin life anew under the influence of the silver loving cup.

Changing Positions.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Secretary Daniels went down to the house to hear the debate on the tolls question. Instead of going to the floor of the house, that he had a right to do, he went to the reporter's gallery as a newspaper man, which he is, and from there sent out a dispatch to his paper. His dispatch started with this paragraph:
"Which is the sacred plank in the national platform?" One—and a new one—favors free canal tolls. This involves a subsidy to great shipping interests which have a powerful lobby. The other—and the ancient and fundamental one—is against subsidies and bounties. This contravenes the new and undemocratic plank. Which shall stand? The old basic principle against subsidies or a new rule which breaks our solemn treaty and puts subsidies into the pockets of the few from taxes wrung from the people.

This is a very clear statement of one branch of the issue. Now as a matter of fact all the Democratic congressmen from Ohio voted against the free tolls plank of their platform and all the Republican congressmen voted for it. So, if the tolls issue is made the leading question in this fall's campaign, the Republicans will be found fighting for the Democratic platform and the Democrats against it. Well, it won't do any hurt. The people need lots of education yet in this exemption issue.

GO NOT SCOLD THE CHILDREN

Nervous mothers, worried from morning till night by the care of children and the duties of the household; nervous children worried by overstudy, unable to sit still or stand still or to keep their minds concentrated on anything very long, both need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves.

Try a short treatment with these strengthening pills and watch the color return to pale cheeks and lips, see how the worn nerves recover their poise, note how much less irritating the children become and how much less scolding they need. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to nervous people everywhere, men as well as women, because they build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They lighten the cares of life because they give you new strength to meet them.

Nervousness in children should be corrected at once as it is but a short step to St. Vitus' dance. Give them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up their blood and they will become sturdy, pink-cheeked and merry.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in the house. Your own druggist can supply you. Write now to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free booklet "Home Treatment of Nervous Disorders."

On Tuesday afternoon sixty-five women were entertained at the Rawlings home in West Church street, when Mrs. A. L. Rawlings and Mrs. Wayne Collier were hostesses at a thimble party. The rooms were arranged with jonquills and other Easter flowers and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Irene Ditter and Mrs. D. C. Crider.

Mr. Tom Cramer was given a delightful surprise at his home in Prior avenue Wednesday evening by a number of his friends, wishing to remind him of his birthday anniversary. He was the recipient of many useful gifts. At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Crouthers, Mrs. Reese Evans and Mrs. Moss.

The guests were Mr. Forest Cramer, Miss Mary Fresse, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neighbor and daughter Hilda, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crouther and little son and daughter Harry and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cordray, Mr. and Mrs. George Devereau and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Moss, Mr. Byra Peters, Mrs. Reese Evans and little daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cramer, Aleta Clark, Eva, Elizabeth and Charles Cramer.

On Wednesday evening Miss Ella Warrington was hostess to the R. F. and B. P. club at her home in Woods avenue. The house was charmingly decorated in colors of yellow, white and green. Games and contests were the features of the earlier part of the evening, the successful contestants being Misses Lottie Baker, Dollie Warrington and Mrs. Clarence Rutledge. At 10:30 the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty two course luncheon was served at the close of which in a most unique way the engagement of Miss Warrington to Mr. G. C. McElwain was announced, the wedding to be an event of early spring. After congratulations had been extended the guests returned to the parlor where they enjoyed a musical program by a ladies quartet, the Warrington sisters and Miss Passman, Miss Amanda Morse at the piano.

The members and guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rutledge, Misses Lottie Baker, Mary Osburn, Amanda Morse, Ada Passman, Dollie, Nora, Addie and Ella Warrington, Messrs. G. A. Warrington, G. C. McElwain, Erie Fulk and Evan Warrington.

The date of the next meeting was not decided upon as some of the members were absent on account of sickness.

BENOV-TIPPETT.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock Dr. Sparks united in marriage Mr. George F. Benov and Miss Hattie F. Tippett, highly esteemed young people of Croton. They were married at Mr. Sparks' home and the ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Josephine Bonham an aunt of the bridegroom, and Miss Letha Wince. They will reside in Croton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Brehm, who were married Thursday at Utica, will be at home after May 16th at Stillwater apartments, Stillwater Drive, Dayton, O. Mrs. Brehm was formerly Miss Alice Marguerite Harris, daughter of Mr. Harry E. Harris, publisher of the Utica Herald.

Sense of Direction.
The apparently marvellous way in which Indians, Eskimos and other primitive people make their way through forests, snow covered areas or other regions which have little to indicate direction to white newcomers has led to a widespread belief that they possess a mysterious sixth sense of direction. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the arctic traveler, who has lived much with Eskimos, is very skeptical about the existence of any superiority of sense of direction among primitive peoples of any kind and gives strong evidence from personal experience that Eskimos have no such superiority. The ability of Indians and others to find their way he attributes solely to their familiarity with the country through which they are traveling. They note many things that they have seen before and that have no significance to the stranger in their land. White men can and do acquire the same ability to find their way when they have learned to know a country. When the land is equally strange to the white man and the Indian or Eskimo, the white man, because of his better developed reasoning power, is more likely to have a correct idea of direction than the Eskimo. —Indianapolis News.

The Literal Mind.

Man is never literal in the expression of his ideas except in matters most trivial. Very often man's words are not a language at all, but merely a vocal gesture of the dumb. They may indicate, but do not express, his thoughts. The more vital his thoughts the more have his words to be explained by the context of his life. Those who seek to know his meaning by the aid of the dictionary only technically reach the house, for they are stopped by the outside wall and find no entrance to the hall. This is the reason why the teachings of our greatest prophets give rise to endless disputations when we try to understand them by following their words and not by realizing them in our own lives. The men who are cursed with the gift of the literal mind are the unfortunate ones who are always busy with their words and neglect the thing.—"Sadhana: The Realization of Life," by Rabindranath Tagore.

Tree Roots.

An article by A. Edward in the Agricultural Journal of India describes the attempts made at the Pusa experimental station to protect field crops from injury by the roots of neighboring trees, by digging a deep trench each year between the trees and the adjacent cultivated area. In the case of some trees this plan proved successful, but not in the case of others, such as the pipal, banyan and teak. When the trenches were opened up it was found that the several roots had become connected again. New roots had been formed at the cut extremity. They had grown across the trench, which was twenty-four to thirty inches wide, and united with the severed portion of the root by a process of natural grafting, followed by a rapid thickening of the connections, which attained a thickness of .8 to 1.1 inches in twelve months.

One of the chorus girls came upon the stage after the rehearsal had been under way more than a half hour. The manager said, with all the tenderness of a buzz saw: "Do you know that you are very late? What excuse have you got to offer?" "I didn't bring it with me," she answered.

"What?" thundered the manager. "My excuse. I left it at home. You see, I got married yesterday, but I didn't think you wanted to see my husband." The manager tried to suppress a grin. "We'll proceed with the rehearsal. Your excuse is sufficient."—Exchange.

Mosques in England.

There are magnificent Mohammedan mosques in England. Those at Liverpool and Woking are noted for their exquisite appointments, and there is one situated at Bayswater. The doors are gilded in a similar way to those of the world famous Taj Mahal at Agra, built by Shah Jehan. In the east end there is a sacred temple to Al Ahmed, where the faithful meet once a year to go through a curious ceremony in honor of the prophet.—London Spectator.

Pretty Homely.

London used to have an Ugly club. On his admittance to the Ugly club a short descriptive sketch of the new member was entered in the minute book. We find the picture of a claimant to the title of the ugliest man on earth in "Joseph Farmer, merchant," whose description reads as follows: "Little eyes, one bigger than the other; long nose, thin button jaws, large uper lip; mouth from ear to ear, resembling a shark's; a rotten set of irregular teeth, which are set off at great advantage by frequent laughing; his visage long and narrow; his looks upon the whole extraordinary, laggard, odd, comic and out of the way. In short, possessed of every qualification to render him the prince of ye society, as the like won't appear again this one thousand years."—London Chronicle.

Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

Several Inquirers—The birds shown in picture No. 48 are geese. R. A. Reynoldsburg—We can not answer your questions until we write to the man who suggested pictures Nos. 8 and 16. Your question will be answered before the contest ends.

J. S. G.—There is no extra charge for postage on extra coupons. Please send your orders for any number of coupons you want and they will be sent upon receipt of 2 cents each.

Telephone—In suggesting picture No. 51 the artist was told to draw a tree but he was not told to sketch any particular brand of tree.

K. S. R. D. J. Fredericksen—Pack coupons are sent to you today. If you want a catalogue please send us 27 cents. The circular sent to you may help you to solve the first six pictures. You will easily catch up.

G. C. A.—The last picture will appear May 1, but two weeks or more will be allowed for people to get extra coupons, study the pictures and send in their answers. The exact time will be announced later. Out-of-town contestants will be at no disadvantage.

Mrs. W. B. S.—You are not obliged to order a full set of the extra coupons in case you want to submit extra answers for part of the pictures. For instance you may order two extra of No. 4, three extra of No. 6, four extra of No. 40, etc. You may submit from one to five answers to each picture, each answer to be upon a separate coupon.

Dr. G. H., Columbus—Geese in picture No. 48.

A. H. T.—All of the catalogues are exactly alike except in color of the covers. If any "probable answer" you see is not listed in the Advocate catalogue you may be sure it isn't right.

M. C. Black Run—In picture 46 the woman has a sword in her left hand. Send in your torn or soiled coupons and new coupons will be given to you.

Inquirer—In picture No. 45 the woman holds a cane in the left hand and upon her right arm is a "vanity case" or notebook. She appears to have nothing in her right hand.

Contestant—Your question: "Does the animal in picture No. 37 have anything to do with the book?" Must be answered by yourself.

Columbus—Many contestants are inquiring about binders for coupons. We are giving the matter attention and may soon be able to announce an inexpensive binder that will answer your purpose. Just as soon as it is perfected an announcement will be printed.

Inquirer—Sample coupons are sent to you today. It is not too late to start. Many are just starting. The last picture appears May 1, but plenty of time will be given after that so if you enter now you can soon catch up.

Inquirer—The American Tribune of Newark is advertising "probable answers" by Solution Company of this city. The man is Dr. W. C. Corne who is studying the pictures and the catalogue. Dr. Corne has an inside information and he does not pretend to have any. He announces that he will offer 100 more answers to each picture at the close of the contest.

You never can tell. Even the wish of victory may be topped by a full house.

Changing Positions.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Secretary Daniels went down to the house to hear the debate on the tolls question. Instead of going to the floor of the house, that he had a right to do, he went to the reporter's gallery as a newspaper man, which he is, and from there sent out a dispatch to his paper. His dispatch started with this paragraph:

"Which is the sacred plank in the national platform? One—and a new one—favors free canal tolls. This involves a subsidy to great shipping interests which have a powerful lobby. The other—and the ancient and fundamental one—is against subsidies and bounties. This contravenes the new and undemocratic plank. Which shall stand? The old basic principle against subsidies or a new rule which breaks our solemn treaty and puts subsidies into the pockets of the few from taxes wrung from the people."

This is a very clear statement of one branch of the issue. Now as a matter of fact all the Democratic congressmen from Ohio voted against the free tolls plank of their platform and all the Republican congressmen voted for it. So, if the tolls issue is made the leading question in this fall's campaign, the Republicans will be found fighting for the Democratic platform and the Democrats against it. Well, it won't do any hurt the people need lots of education yet in this exemption issue.

Wisdom from Washington

Washington, April 10.—[Special.]—It is the people back home who count. They may not know it, but that great mass of voters, called constituents, are shaping legislation these days or at least are determining the vote of members on various propositions.

"How are the fellows back home going to take it?" "I would like to get a line on how it strikes the fellows back home." "My fellows want me to do this or that," and similar expressions are heard, indicating that members of congress are anxious to please their people. It is natural, for if the people are displeased the return of the congressman is unlikely.

This is particularly true these days, when a man has to run the gauntlet of two tryouts before the people—once for the nomination and again for the election. Even a big party majority cannot save him with the primary system and the people against him.

Balance With Bull Moose.

Whatever they may say publicly, the Republicans have little hope of carrying the next house. The bull moose party stands in the way. "There would be no question of electing a Republican house if it were not for the Progressives," remarked one of the keenest political observers on the Republican side. "With the bull moose putting candidates into nearly every district success is hopeless."

There are Progressives who hope to elect enough members to hold the balance of power in the next house, but the best politicians among them are not talking that way.

Pensions Always Win.

Possibly it is popular in some sections to fight pensions. More than a quarter of a century ago "Buck" Kilgore of Texas was making a record fighting private pension legislation. Cleveland stood with him and vetoed many pension bills and was defeated for reelection in 1888 on that as well as on other counts.

Texas continues to furnish men who fight pension legislation, but there is always a big majority which votes liberal pensions for civil war veterans and for soldiers of other wars. And so it was in regard to a general pension bill for soldiers of the Spanish war and Philippine insurrection. It passed the house by a vote of 256 to 74.

Fitzgerald Scolds.

The appropriations committee of the house brought in its proposition to reduce mileage to the amount of $100,000. The house rejected that and tacked on a provision for an increase of $300 each for clerk hire, a total of $132,000. Then Chairman Fitzgerald scolded. He called attention to the sweeping denunciations by Democrats of Republican extravagance and sarcastically said the exhibition just given "would appeal to the country in the fall elections."

A Marshall Decision.

The senate was in one of its controversial spasms one day, and Senator Pomeroy of Ohio asked: "Mr. President, have I the floor?" "With two others," promptly replied the vice president.

Poetry and Patriotism.

Poetry figured quite extensively in the debates on the Panama canal tolls. I notice as the speeches are ground out in the Congressional Record. Champ Clark broke into poetry frequently. Those members who desired to twist the lion's tail a bit coupled their poetry with patriotic outbursts.

Another Saving?

In the interest of economy it has been suggested that senators and representatives should not send so many documents through the mails. Succession of a limitation in this respect brought forth the following from Senator Robinson of Arkansas. "Therefore I have not discriminated much in sending out documents, but if there is a limitation in the future I will only send out my own speeches and remarks, which are of great interest to the public."

Walking Chief Justice.

Although past his seventieth birthday and retired on paper to make a place for Professor Taft—the chief justice of the United States is a mighty young looking man. And he walks from his home to the capital and back every day without any trouble. When anybody reads a rumor that Chief Justice White is going to retire he had better take it with a grain of salt.

"THE MESSAGE IN THE ROSE."
Edison.

The Story:..... Herbert Chalmers

Joe:..... Richard Tucker
Giovanna:..... Mabel Trunnelle
Sergeant Calver:..... Herbert Prior
Glover:..... Bigelow Cooper

Love, as well as roses, was blooming in this particular florist's shop, where Miss Mary was the charming daughter of the proprietor and Joe was his efficient assistant. Giuseppe, how it happened that one day when Mary, almost hidden in a tangle of the flowers, was passing an especially beautiful bloom, Joe kissed her. On the instant she started in amazement and she repulsed him quickly, and the very tender hearted Joe turned away, cut to the quick. While Mary rushed to her room and exulted in her joy, she discovered affection. Joe went to her room and gave up his job. To make up for his chilly reception, Mary hastily scribbled a note, "I love you, Joe," and tucked it into the heart of the rose she had been admiring at the time of his kiss, expecting Joe to find it and understand.

After she had in the rose room her father clipped a vase of the choicest flowers among them the one containing the note—and took them into the shop. A young man came in almost immediately, desired a single white rose, and chose the message bearer. He took it to give to his sweetheart, but a rival called at the same time, objected to the rose, and hung it out to the street.

The fresh, fragrant bloom fell at the feet of old Giovanna, a tall, Italian peasant woman, who was limping and leaning on a cane. Her clawlike fingers found it and she sank on the steps, burying her face in its dewy petals. Straight back to sunny Italy and her own youth time it took her, and she lived her wild past anew. Her hot-blooded girlhood, when she was the belle of her community, her unhappy quarrel with another woman that landed her in the prison from which she escaped by using the witchery of her eyes on the sergeant of the police, then the long gypsy trail where she was the beloved of a fortune teller, the smuggler, all came in the final tragedy of the death of her gypsy lover at the hands of the betrayed sergeant of the police. She paid her price by finishing her prison sentence where she was the beloved of a fortune teller, the smuggler, all came in the final tragedy of the death of her gypsy lover at the hands of the betrayed sergeant of the police. She paid her price by finishing her prison sentence where she was the beloved of a fortune teller, the smuggler, all came in the final tragedy of the death of her gypsy lover at the hands of the betrayed sergeant of the police.

"Move on. No looking here." Dazedly she rose and shambled down the street, dropping the rose from her nerveless fingers. A little girl, running up to her, saw it fall and took it home with her where her uncle was sitting dejectedly on the front porch. Her uncle looked at it disinterestedly. Then caught a glimpse of a tiny piece of paper which proved to be the message. As luck would have it, the child's uncle was Joe, and he lost no time in hurrying back to the florist's shop and helping Miss Mary dry her eyes.

"The Sheriff's Deputy."

Bill Gavin has been sheriff for twenty years, but he still clings to his job in spite of the fact that Arthur Bronson, his daughter's sweetheart, has been elected to run by a committee of friends. The hot campaign, in which love plays an exciting part, ends in a vote of 450 to 451 in favor of Bill Gavin. Bronson having cast his vote for his rival, Bronson loses the office, but he will not let his father-in-law make him his deputy so it is all in the family.

Uncle Walt

Lovers.

When we see a youth and maiden through a flood of moonshine water, as they vow a love eternal, how with them we sympathize! And we wish them countless blessings, with no end to their caressings, hoping they may ever travel under sunny, cloudless skies. Love is for the young and blooming, and they'll always find us booming wedding rings and orange blossoms, and the shower of shoes and rice; every youth should haste and marry, he should never halt or tarry, he should gather in a dandelion on the day he has the price. Oh, the whole world loves the lovers (as the blushing maid discovers), and the universe is home.

Putting Her to the Test.
"John, didn't I tell you that if you came home tipsy another night I'd go home to my mother?"
"Yes, indeed."
"Then why have you come home in this condition?"
"Didn't you say (this you'd go home to your mother?"—Boston Transcript.

The Other Fellow.

The woman who spends all of her time and her husband's income maintaining a position in society is a member of the smart set. But the fellow who stood aside and let the other fellow marry her regards himself as the wise guy.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Twist the Coin"

And he walks from his home to the capital and back every day without any trouble. When anybody reads a rumor that Chief Justice White is going to retire he had better take it with a grain of salt.

Miss Marion Leonard

Miss Marion Leonard has shown there is something in moving picture work for the actor from the financial side alone, for this last summer she commanded a contract with the Monopol Film company which provided for a salary of $1,000 a week for forty-two weeks of the year, which made her the highest priced moving picture actress in the world.

"The Rose of Yesteryear."

—Warner Feature.

This elaborate story, which is artistically worked out with a care for details that makes the unusual complications clear, is based on the problem of mixed identities with the unexpected results arising. It is set forth in the form of the reminiscence of the woman of middle age who has lost her romance, and the film is the story of her past life which she relates to her young niece. Miss Marion Leonard is featured as the heroine, acting her rôle with careful emotional interpretation that holds the observer's attention closely.

Years before two babies were brought to a founding home, a brother and sister whose relationship was sustained only by the two similar pairs of shoes and their two little plaid shawls. They were adopted by two families, each departing with the baby, the girl, and the shoes. The baby boy was taken by a minister and his wife and on the way out the little shoes were dropped. Another baby had been chosen by a wealthy family, soon after the little boy's adoption, and on going down the steps the shoes were noticed and picked up under the impression that they belonged to their baby. When the minister and his wife reached their home they missed the small shoes and hastened to gather up the missing link in the evidence as soon as possible, going back to the home to try to discover the shoes. Since the shoes had disappeared absolutely the minister wrote a note connecting the identity between the two children by means of the shawls, which the boy's foster father took away with him.

Years passed until the babies were grown into youth, but the complications of personalities worked havoc in their happiness. The girl the foster child of wealth, was beautiful and beloved by a splendid young fellow whose affections she returned. He was a founding child, too—in fact, the third one that had been adopted after the brother and sister who closely ran the chain of coincidence and his well to do foster mother was most anxious to urge upon him a marriage with another girl which would bring them a large fortune.

The other girl was as eager as the mother and between them they used every variety of persuasion in their power. The girl knew of the man's antecedents and the slender thread of identification established by the small shoes in his mother's possession. One day she visited the chosen sweetheart in order to protect against the proposed marriage and to tell her how much more it would profit the man to marry where the fortune lay, and found her caressing a small pair of shabby shoes the exact mates of those in the possession of the man's foster mother. Noting this she made her plea as she intended and then went back to tell of her discovery.

Right after her departure the man came, the girl told of the interference and he persuaded her to come at once and be married. They hastened to a justice of the peace and, except for the doddering slowness of the old gentleman, would have been safely made man and wife, but before the ceremony was completed the mother and the other girl broke in, proclaiming the two were brother and sister and displaying the shoes as proof of their assertion.

The girl went home heartbroken, packed up a bag, took her maid and departed for a small village where there would be no chance of meeting any one. Here her grief was very acute and the young minister attempted to comfort her, drawing from her the story of her unfortunate love. The matter of the shoes settled things immediately, for again the chain of coincidence was in evidence. The minister went to his house for a moment but returned with the note the head of the founding home had written for his father and the little shawl which matched the one in the girl's possession. With her brother's help she hastened back to town and arrived at the home of the man she loved just when a great throng of people, festively dressed, were going up the steps.

Somewhat surprised, she and her brother went on up to the porch. But they didn't go in. They heard the wedding music of Lohengrin and they waited by the French window, which commanded a view of the interior of the parlor where they saw the man and the girl united in marriage.

With that episode the woman concludes her story. "And that is why I never married, my dear."

"The Silver Loving Cup."

—Imp.

This is the story of the foolish wife who neglects her child, insists on continual excitement, and forces her husband away from his serious duties as surgeon in hospital. She goes about with another man and gambles when her husband refuses, to accompany her, and when he goes with her, he is reprimanded at the hospital for his defection. He is given a silver loving cup by his brother physicians for his success in finding a cure for a supposed incurable disease just before the domestic and professional crash that takes from his wife, child, practice, and his hope in life. He goes down in the world, taking with him from his old life only the loving cup, but his practice among the poor soon revives his medical reputation, and he is restored to his old position in the hospital. Here one day is brought as a charity case his wife. He is able to cure her and they begin life anew under the influence of the silver loving cup.

BOND SALE

ON MAY NINTH, SEVENTEEN
"OVER THE COUNTER,"
NINTH $75 LOSS TO SEL-LERS.

As Compared With Old Method, but State Price and Interest Increased.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Boston, April 10.—In defense of his recent sale of an issue of $5,000, 000 state bonds, "over the counter," rather than through a syndicate of bankers, State Treasurer F. W.
Mansfield said in a public statement today that the net loss to the state was $75 compared with the last bond sale under the old methods.
"The big thing that I sought to accomplish," said the treasurer, "was to increase the interest of the people in their own state, to advance civic pride and patriotism, and bring the government closer to the people."
The public bond netted $450, more than would have been obtained had the bid of the syndicate been accepted, but the advertising cost offset this advantage.

Your Best Friend

"Brownstone" Hair Stain Will Retain For You Your Youthful Appearance. What Other Friend
Can Do As Much?

After all one of the chief pleasures in life is that of appearing in as attractive a manner as possible.
And there are but few douches that will so quickly detract from your personal appearance as gray, faded or treaked hair.

"Brownstone" Hair stain will help you in just this emergency. With it you can touch up the gray spots instantly—or you can in a few moments turn your hair to a rich, soft brown, so much to be admired. Or, you can make it a glossy black if you prefer. All this without the possibility of detection, failure or harm to either hair or scalp.

No previous experience whatever is necessary when you use "Brown-stone." Just brush or comb it into the hair.

A sample and a booklet will be sent you upon receipt of 10 cents.
All of the leading drug stores sell
"Brownstone." Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.
Two shades—one for golden or medium brown, and the other for dark brown or

KING GUSTAVE IS RECOVERING FROM SEVERE OPERATION.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Stockholm, Sweden, April 10.—
King Gustave's condition was "satisfactory" today according to the surgeons who operated yesterday for the relief of ulceration of the stomach. Their bulletin this morning said: "His Majesty passed a quiet night, sleeping three hours.
He suffered some pain which however, interfered with the cicatriza-tion of the wound. The king was able to take water and tea without any ill effects.

Kinds Quickly Relieved When You Apply Speedway.

Pain leaves like magic when you apply Speedway. You just seem to smooth all the trouble out, and instead of feeling worse you feel better. It is a soothing sensation right away.
Remember—Speedway is doing its work the minute you put it on, even though it cannot torture you or harm the most tender skin or stain the flesh or disfigurest fabric.

You can absolutely depend upon Speedway going right to the spot and doing all we claim for it. If you're not satisfied, the druggist returns your money.

You get delightful relief the very

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

A Uniform—And Under It.

"If Ned goes to West Point, as he is talking of doing," said the Pretty Girl, "when he gets into his uniform—he is so handsome—won't the girls just rave over him?"

"They certainly will," said the Girl Who Wore Spectacles. "But—if they only knew what was underneath that uniform."

"What do you mean?" asked the Pretty Girl, a bit indignantly. "I guess my brother is as nice as most young men."

"Perhaps he is," said the Girl Who Wore Spectacles, "but I wasn't thinking of that especially. He is good-looking; and thinking how girls will look no further, but fall head over heels in love—for they will—with his magnificent figure, his firm chin, his fine mouth, and nose and eyes and all the rest. Oh, they're all right, I'm perfectly willing to admit. There is something distinguished and noble and forceful about him. But all the same, underneath that uniform, you know and I know, will be a terrible temper, a positively mulish obstinacy, very little serious thought about anything, in fact very little that will make for genuine happiness in married life. The girl who marries him will have to live superficially. She'll never get from him any companionship for the depths of her nature. And yet, girls will fall over each other for the privilege of being Mrs. Ned, and the girl he leads to the altar will be envied by many and counted fortunate by all."

"Ned has got some faults," admitted the Pretty Girl, reluctantly. "He isn't interested in much but baseball and going to his club. But somehow or other, he looks so impressive that I have always thought there must be more in him than there seems to be, and that perhaps the right girl would wake it up and bring it out."

"Maybe there is," said the Girl Who Wore Spectacles. "I hope so, and I hope he finds the right girl. But also I wish girls would look deeper than a uniform. But I suppose they never will. And I do not know if I blame them altogether. If Ned gets into that uniform, I am afraid my own heart will go pit-a-pat, though I can see beneath the uniform and clear through him. I suppose it is because most of us do love beauty and can't resist its appeal. And the beauty that is patently before our eyes seems more real and satisfying than the beauty of character, that is so intangible and requires such keen vision to discern."

The Pretty Girl looked at the Girl Who Wore Spectacles a bit reflectively, but said nothing.

Barbara Boyd.

CURIOSITY OF TRAVELING MAN WAS SATISFIED

The Utica Herald tells of a traveling man who had a curiosity about coffins, but who is probably cured. He was spending some time alone in a club room in the Wright block, where there also happens to be an undertaking establishment. Strolling through the building he noticed the undertaking rooms and walked in. Having never seen a burial case without an occupant and being curious to see how one looked, he walked up to one and raised the lid.

The casket was occupied and the Herald says: "Shocked almost into helplessness he dropped the cover and as fast as his trembling legs would carry him he got out of the room, down the stairs and onto the street."

Abe Martin Says

Too many folks hang up their religion with their Sunday clothes. Winter clothes may be made as good as new by a lively application of cornmeal and a stiff brush.

A SAFE PLACE TO TRADE

THE MASTER OF MEN'S CORRECT ATTIRE

Journeyman workers in all trades, must serve a prescribed time before they get the "Journeyman" title, some never get it, and give up the trade. The same rule applies to Custom Tailoring; to present proper attire requires years of patient study and observations, the big essentials take care of themselves, 'tis the little details of finish, of perfection, of fit, of fabrics and hosts of other things, which carefully and conscientiously considered, are embodied in correctly tailored garments, and which give a firm high standard reputation.

As a great railway magnate said to his son, "William, did you lock the trunk?" as they were starting on a journey. "I think I did," William replied. The father said, "Any person can think, but I want you TO DO, AND BE SURE YOU DO." A wise maxim, and one of the landmarks of our business, "WE DO." Ask any of our patrons what we DO.

As the springtime beauty is unfolding, so this store offers daily, the new products of FASHION'S looms, in fabrics for men's wear, a pleasure to see, and economy to buy.

Today We Celebrate
In the Hebrew household of this city and throughout the world the celebration of the Feast of the Passover, or Pesach, will begin this evening. Pesach is the Spring festival of Judaism, as Easter is that of Christianity, and serves to commemorate Jehovah's deliverance of the children of Israel from their bondage in Egypt which was accomplished through that great leader and lawgiver, Moses. Pesach is one of the three great feasts of the Jews, and in ancient times they journeyed from all over Palestine to Jerusalem to take part in the religious services at the temple.
The feast of the Passover lasts eight days. The first two and the last two days of this period are held only by the orthodox followers of Judaism, and are marked by the repetition of ancient rites in the synagogue. This evening the Seder service will usher in the celebration. After the ceremonies in the synagogue the members of each Jewish family gather about the dining table, on which is placed a part of a shankbone of a lamb, roasted, which is symbolic of the Paschal lamb offering, and also a mixture of fruits and nuts, chopped, which represents the mortar which the Jews used in their enforced labor for the Egyptian Pharaohs. There is also a jar of vinegar, and the bitter tops of horseradish stalks, symbolic of the bitterness of the oppression to which the Israelites were subjected. Cups of wine are at each place. The head of the family recites the Kiddush, or the Sanctification of the Festival, as the wine is consumed. Then the Haggadah, a history of the providential deliverance of the Jews, is read and chanted, and the evening meal follows. Throughout the festival the eating of bread or anything leavened is prohibited, and in the place of bread unleavened cakes called matzo, made of flour and water without yeast, are eaten. This custom is due to the fact that in their hasty departure from Egypt the women of the Israelites had no time to bake leavened bread. This part of the observance causes the Passover to be called also the Feast of Unleavened Bread.

In Russia the Passover is a period to be feared by the Jews, as the blood and anti-Semitism of the ways. Christened in the use and, course, they are able to of the

How to keep panel lace curtains from becoming mussed when the windows of sleeping rooms are opened at night has been a problem of many housewives.
About halfway up the lower half of the curtain sew a small dress hook on either edge of the curtain and one in the middle of there is heavy lace or strong material at that point.
Besides the small dress hook sew into the wood of the window shade for the pull cord screw a small ler ring into each end of the rod, where it will not be noticed.

Catch the dress hooks into the three corresponding rings on the window shade and roll the latter up as high as it is desired to have the window open.
The screw rings can be put into the window jamb if preferred.

Motor Fire Apparatus Is Economical; It Increases Department's Efficiency

Economy and increased efficiency result from the installation of motor fire apparatus, according to information contained in letters written to Safety Director Carl F. Dayton by officials in cities where such changes have been made. One city claims its department's efficiency has been increased by fifty per cent. by installing the motor apparatus. Another claims that the cost of maintaining three horses for three months was greater than the cost of maintaining a motor truck for the entire 29 months it has been in service. These are a few of the reasons why Director Dayton has sought to have council authorize a bond issue for the purchase of motor trucks by the police and fire departments.

Karl O. Slicker, chief of the Alliance fire department, which is using motor fire apparatus, in a letter to Mr. Dayton says that one machine installed there took the place of a truck requiring three horses. It has been in service 29 months and the expense for oil, gasoline and repairs has amounted to only $102.94. At $15 per month, the average cost of feeding and caring for horses, the expense to the city for the same period would have amounted to $445. The amount expended for maintenance of three horses for three months would pay for the maintenance of the motor equipment for three years.

The Alliance department also has an automobile carrying the chief and two men, it is equipped with hand chemicals, axes, picks, helmets, lanterns, etc., and responds to all alarms. He says that nearly one-half of the fires are extinguished with this force before the arrival of the heavier pieces of apparatus.

Earl T. Smart, director of public safety at Marion writes of the motor fire engine in service there saying that it has cost $3.86 per month to maintain it where the horses alone would have cost $30 per month.

In Massillon one motor truck displaced three horses and saved in the first year $479. It cost $30.77 for the first year's maintenance.

A new piece of apparatus installed at Massillon, according to J. F. Shepley, safety director, is equipped with a single chemical tank and is used for an emergency patrol wagon. It has been in service but a few months and is already a great saving to the city.

"Besides saving money for the city," writes Mr. Shipley, "our motor apparatus has increased the department's efficiency fifty per cent. The apparatus is in better shape after returning from a long run, for another hard trip, than it was when it responded to the first alarm."

It has been the experience of every fire department that the installation of the motor trucks saved money and bettered the fire fighting facilities.

SOLVING A CENTRALIZED SCHOOL PROBLEM.

The schools of Allen township, Union county, Ohio, are centralized. For the last two years the pupils from ten sub-districts have been hauled to one central building. As this is several miles from any town, the superintendent found some difficulty in renting a residence near the school house the first year. However, the school board soon solved the difficulty not only for him but for his successors. They sold all the abandoned school buildings in the township and with the proceeds built a substantial two-story frame residence. This is located on the school ground which consists of several acres. In addition to the residence and new school house, a large shed about 30 by 40 feet has been erected for the care of the rigs of those pupils who furnish their own means of transportation.

TWO NEW POPULAR BULLETINS

Some of the fundamental factors in common use for growing of the strawberry, raspberry, blackberry and currant are dealt with in a new bulletin on "Small Fruits," just issued by the College of Agriculture. "Even where markets are not available or not especially desired," says R. B. Cruickshank, author of the bulletin, "many farmers grow such of these fruits as may appeal to them for their own consumption. The common berries, beginning with the strawberry, will furnish fresh fruit during the entire season and some of them will be ready before the first tree fruits are ripe." Another neatly illustrated bulletin, written by Prof. W. R. Lazenby along popular lines on the subject of "Trees for Shade, Shelter and Ornament" is available at this time. Either or both may be obtained by addressing A. B. Graham, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

DON'T SCOLD AN IRRITABLE CHILD

Look, Mother! If little tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs"—Children love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ailments; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, but laxative, and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

Theaters

Recognized as the Best Popular Priced Organization.

The motto of the Charles K. Champlin company the past fifteen years that it has been on tour has been "the best for the least money," which no doubt accounts for the wonderful success both artistic as well as financially. The reputation gained by this company for the excellent manner in which their plays are staged has made Mr. Champlin the most popular of all the popular priced organizations in the country. The people pack the theaters at every performance, and this company gives, making it possible for Mr. Champlin to continue the same high standard of excellence that has made his company "the best popular priced organization in the country." Mr. Champlin will open a week's engagement at the Auditorium next Monday afternoon presenting the great mother-love drama, "Madame X." Monday evening Paul Armstrong's big New York hit "Alias Jimmy Valentine" will be the bill. During the week the following fine list of plays will be presented: "A Gentleman of Leisure," "The Master of the House," "The Price Women Pay," "The Ensign," "Daughters of Men" and "Shore Acres." Seats now selling.

Pictures Saturday.
Like the danger signal of a railroad crossing, without the watchman where a single step may lead to the destruction of the body and soul; like the use of powerful explosives, where one false move may land an innocent victim into eternity, so it is with Opium used by those for the delightful effect.

Dr. Virgil Jay Freuth, who is promoting Henry Lieb's version of this great evil in a six-reel photo-play, is late from Sing Sing prison, where he was acting physician. It is without a single objectionable feature, with a great moral and six Broadway stars.

Owing to it being booked in Columbus, the management of the Auditorium was able to get it for one day only, Saturday, matinee and night. It is said to be the most interesting six reel picture since "Traffic in Souls."

Pictures At Auditorium Sunday.
The management of the Auditorium has succeeded in securing a special program of five reels for Easter Sunday, which should pack the playhouse to the doors. A well selected program of music will be rendered by the well known Auditorium Orchestra.

Tetrazzini at Columbus.

Communities within a radius of 100 miles of Columbus are manifesting interest in the appearance of Mme. Clara Butt, the world famous contralto, and her husband, Kennerley Rumford, baritone, who will be heard at Memorial Hall, Tuesday evening, April 21, as the fourth number in the Frankenberg series of concerts.

CLASSIC VIRTUES FOR THE MODERN CHILD.

F. J. Gould, author of "The Children's Plutarch," is at present in America. He is conducting, under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin and the International Child Welfare League, a series of demonstrations in schools all over the country, to large audiences, to show his methods of moral education. "Trying to put facts into a child's mind," he says, "is one thing. Trying to put a spiritual conception there is another." In his preface to "The Tales of the Greeks" and "The Tales of the Romans," into which "The Children's Plutarch" is divided, Mr. Gould explains why he considers these classical biographies so valuable an aid in the training of a child's character and in the building up of his conceptions of social justice and civic evolution.

STOP

Coffee Drinkers,
And think a minute!

Some persons seem able, for a time at least, to get along with coffee, but it contains a subtle, habit-forming drug, caffeine, which sooner or later is pretty sure to rob one of health and comfort.

If you know coffee don't harm you—if you feel prime and fit under its continued use, well and good—stick to it.

But—if you are sometimes a bit "off color," and irritable nerves, disturbed heart action, biliousness, headache, or symptoms of liver or kidney trouble make you wonder what's the matter—

Better find out what coffee has to do with it.

Evidently some people are learning the truth about coffee—listen—

During 1913 the sales of coffee in this country decreased over one hundred million pounds.

A mighty army of former coffee drinkers now use and enjoy freed from their old coffee aches and pains.

Postum, made of whole wheat and a bit of molasses, is a delicious table beverage absolutely free from the coffee drugs, caffeine and tannin.

If you are interested in bettering yourself—think it over!

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder, requires no boiling. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

Watch Carefully the Child's Diet.

Start Them Off Right With a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Food.

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers, is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Patten, Valley Junction, Iowa, who is never without it in the house. Mrs. Patten says that Syrup Pepsin has done wonders for her boy Ralph, who was constipated from birth but is now doing fine. Naturally she is enthusiastic about it and wants other mothers to use it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-gripping and free from injurious ingredients.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

WHITE LIST OF PLAYS CATHOLICS MAY GO TO SEE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, April 10.—The Catholic theater movement, a committee which investigates plays to determine what is good for Catholics to see in the theaters, today published its first "white list" of entertainments in the form of a printed folder called "the bulletin" which will be sent to Catholics throughout the country.

The Bulletin names in its "White List" 135 plays produced during the last 25 years, the titles ranging from plays of Ancient Memory to some of the latest New York successes. In February last a dozen plays were named by the movement as examples of those which would be placed upon the "white list." Of the 135 plays named in the list only five of them are now being played in New York.

To Wage Battle In Safeguarding Radium Ore Land

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, April 10.—The battle precipitated by Secretary Lane of the Interior department to safeguard the radium ore bearing public lands of the United States reached its open in congress for the first time today when the Walsh bill, as amended by the Senate mines committee, was called up for consideration. When Chairman Walsh of the mines committee obtained, Wednesday, the unanimous consent of the Senate to take up the bill today, asserting that the matter was urgent as every month saw hundreds of claims located in the radium fields of Colorado and Utah over which the government would never be able to exercise the rights conferred by the bill.

As amended the Walsh bill provides for a prior right of purchase by the government on all radium ores taken from lands located after the passage of the act. It also provides for a government owned and operated plant for the reduction of radium ores and the manufacture of various radium salts employed in the treatment of cancer and other diseases.

OHIO WOMAN STOMACH SUFFERER NOW CAN EAT AS SHE PLEASURES

Mrs. Perkins Finds Swift Relief After First Dose of Mays' Remedy.

Mrs. W. E. Perkins of Point Place, R. R. No. 7, Toledo, suffered for a long time from stomach troubles. She felt bad most of the time and she could hardly ever find anything to eat that would agree with her.

She took Mays' Wonderful Stomach Remedy and was surprised at the sudden restoration that followed. She wrote:

"I have been taking your remedy and it has done me so much good and I am so much better that I am eating most any and every thing that I used to years ago before I knew what stomach trouble was. I am thankful that I heard of your wonderful medicine."

Similar letters have been written by thousands of people in all parts of the United States. Mays' Wonderful Stomach Remedy is known everywhere. The first dose proves no long treatment.

Mays' Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of poisonous accretions and removes the cause of stomach troubles. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the wonderful success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYS'. Go to Hall's Drug Store and ask about the remarkable results it has been accomplishing in cases they know about—or send to Geo. H. Mays, Mfg. Chemist, 134-136 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful results.

HOOKWORM

DOES NOT EXIST IN POCAHONTAS COAL FIELDS, BELIEVES GOVERNOR.

Of West Virginia, Himself a Physician Who Disagrees With Federal Expert.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Charleston, W. Va., April 10.—Governor H. D. Hatfield, himself a physician who left active practice to become chief executive of West Virginia, today declared he does not believe the people of the Pocahontas coal field are afflicted with hookworm, as charged by Dr. W. C. Stiles, of the Federal Health service in a report to Washington, and ordered the bacteriological department of the University of West Virginia to make a thorough investigation. Governor Hatfield practiced medicine for a number of years in the counties covered by Stiles' report, but before making public his views he consulted a number of other practitioners in the Pocahontas field, all of whom, it is stated, agree with the governor.

Suffragettes To Seek New Place In Texas Primaries

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Dallas, Texas, April 10.—Suffragettes will not ask a place on the Democratic ticket in the July primaries for the woman suffrage question, according to a decision reached by the Equal Suffrage Association of Texas in convention here.

It was decided that a campaign of education was needed before urging submission of a state constitutional amendment to give women of this state the ballot.

$10.00 SHOES AT STEPHAN'S IN CONTEST

How would you like a pair of $5 Queen Quality Shoes—or a $5.00 pair of Bostonian shoes? If you win prizes $6 and $7 in the Advocate's big Booklovers' Contest. They are yours without cost to you.

These two pairs of fine shoes were purchased from the A. S. Stephan's Shoe Store at 17 South Park Place. The Queen Quality Shoe for women rank among the leaders of women's shoes in the world. This company is a member of the Rice Leaders Association.

There are four requirements that must be recognized the world over to entitle a company to membership. They are "honor, quality, strength, and service" and recognition in this way is a big thing.

The Bostonian shoe for men has no equal and its merits are recognized everywhere. A. S. Stephan began business in Newark eighteen years ago. He came to his present location about a year and a half ago, buying out G. A. Ball & Son. Mr. Stephan has one of the hand-somest stores in the city and carries a splendid line of footwear. He will be very glad to show you the Queen Quality and Bostonian shoes in this Booklovers' prize and should you win these shoes, he will fit you with your correct size.

This big Booklovers' Contest is still attracting new people every day. There is time yet for you to come in. Get the back coupons and catalogue and commence today.

NEWARK TYPOS TO ATTEND MEET IN COLUMBUS

Meets Frank Belmar, Charles Roemer, and James McGough, representing Newark Typographical union No. 69, will attend the state Convention to be held in Columbus Saturday and Sunday, as delegates. The sessions will be held at the Southern hotel and much business of importance will come before the body for disposal.

This great trade union has been a powerful factor for the good of every man connected with it, has adopted strong policies for the advancement of the condition of the printer, at the same time and with equal success avoiding entangling alliances political or otherwise.

The conduct of the organization has been conducive to the establishment of many reforms and some most satisfactory conditions. There is one million dollars in the treasury, seventy thousand members, a firmly established old-age pension, a substantial death benefit, a school for technical education and a world-famed Home and Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Colorado Springs.

The International Typographical union has been and is now in the forefront of the battle against the white plague, that is being waged throughout the world.

Ambition Pills

FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

The great nerve tonic—the famous Wendell's Ambition Pills—that will put vigor vim and vitality into every tired out, all in, despondent people in a few days.

GOOD FRIDAY AND BRIAN BORU

Good Friday, which commemorates the death of Jesus upon Calvary, will be solemnly observed throughout Christendom today. In Ireland, this day of tragic memories has a double significance, for it marks the 90th anniversary of the death in battle of that sublime Hibernian hero, Brian Boru, or Boromhe, who, after totally defeating the Danes at Clontarf, was killed on Good Friday in the year 1014. Brian Boru was a great and wise king who united Ireland long enough to repulse the Danes, and who ruled his realm with vigor and prosperity. After his death the Irish began to fight among themselves and fell into that condition of disunion and anarchy which made them easy victims to England. Good Friday will be generally observed in Catholic and Anglican churches, and to a lesser extent by other Protestant denominations. Hot cross buns, the special Good Friday food, are of pagan origin, and were introduced into England by the Romans, who divided the sacred cakes they offered to Diana, whose festival occurred soon after the vernal equinox, with lines intersecting each other at right angles.

Some people get religion with the idea that they need no other fire-escape.

There's No Corn That "Gets-It" Won't Get

No More Puncturing, Plasters, Salves and Corn Pains. Try the New Way

Just think at the way that corn comes off. That's what you'll say when you try wonderful "GETS-IT" on that corn you've tried so long to try off your toe. It's easy to apply. GETS-IT—one, two, three, and it's done. The corn begins to shrivel away and goes, surely absolutely. A few drops will do it. "GETS-IT" never makes toes red and raw. Corn pains go. It means the end of cutting and rubbing of corns, the end of sticky plasters that don't work anyhow, the end of salves that eat up your toes, no more harshness, or fussing. Try "GETS-IT" the new, sure way, for corns and calluses.

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists. No bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

WOULD CHANGE LOCATION OF HIS SALOON

Nicholas Ferni, of Utica, made application Thursday with the county licensing board to change his saloon location from 512 Mill street to 16 Main street, in the Ritchey Bros. block. The board has ten days in which to consider the matter.

FORD FACTORY AVERAGES OVER 1100 CARS DAILY

Detroit, Mich., April 10.—Going up. Production figures at the Ford factory at Highland Park, Mich., are shattering all record. Eleven hundred and more cars a day for twenty-six consecutive working days was the record in March. When the last car had passed out the factory's doors on March 31st, there had been twenty-eight thousand, seven hundred twelve Fords built and shipped during this month of thirty-one days of which five were Sundays.

The fact is, that despite the unprecedented production during March, the close of the month saw the factory still many thousands of cars behind the sales department. An idea of the demand for Fords may be obtained when it is stated that on a single day early in April, the factory received orders for more than twelve thousand cars.

One Killed In Freight Collision Near Pittsburgh

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Pittsburgh, April 10.—John Moore, engineer, of Connellsville, was killed and F. W. Biehl, engineer of Pittsburgh was hurt, when two Baltimore and Ohio freight trains came together near the Glenwood Bridge today. A number of cars rolled over a high embankment and traffic was blocked for several hours.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "drowsy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

A NEW PREMIER IS RECOMMENDED FOR THE JAPANESE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Tokyo, Japan, April 10.—Count Teraoka, 60 years old, former foreign minister, was recommended to the emperor to succeed the late state minister, who died in place of his duties. Teraoka, who is 60 years old, was a member of the cabinet of the late emperor Meiji, and was one of the most prominent statesmen of the empire. He had been foreign minister for November, 1913, and was succeeded by Count Teraoka.

Rutledge Brothers Young Men's Clothes

There are lots of makers, and dealers in clothes who are having a good deal to say about their "young men's styles;" and the subject is really a very important one. We have something to say on it ourselves.

YOUNG MEN Want Smart, Lively Young Styles; there's a requirement, in clothes for Young Men of ultra-fashion, something smart and distinctive in pattern, color, cut.

The importance of these things to young men has lead, in some cases to forgetting everything else; the quality of the fabrics, the tailoring, the other materials is sometimes made secondary.

Young men are offered stylish-looking stuff, which is stylish only; and that's the very thing young men can't afford to buy.

RUTLEDGE BROTHERS CLOTHES

Are the smartest, best-styled clothes ever shown; but in addition to that, they put the sound, sterling quality into the goods which gives the young man the service and economy of wear he ought to get.

Before you buy any clothes see these;

MONTHLY MEETING DIRECTORATE OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held at the building last night. The general secretary's report for the month of March, showed the work to be in good running condition except for lack of funds to meet certain bills now due. The report showed that 84 members were added to the roll within the month; that five different organizations held six meetings in the building with a total attendance of 310; that the daily estimated attendance at the building was about 200; that seven shop meetings were held with a total attendance of 415. The following persons assisted with these meetings: Rev. A. B. Cox, Rev. T. L. Lowe, Rev. W. D. Ward, J. E. Sturgis, Miss Mina Fletcher, Richard Fattig, Miss Junia Sells, Mrs. J. C. Bonshire, Miss Irene Bonshire, and Mrs. C. B. Keller. Five boys' Bible classes and boys' meetings were held with a total attendance of 279. The receipts for the month were as follows: Membership, $169.75; subscriptions, $147.75; rentals, $180.50; game fees, $8.60; towels, $8.36; miscellaneous, $3.30. Total, $519.26.

The physical directors report showed that the total attendance in the gymnasium was 934 as against 654 a year ago.

The board upon the recommendation of the nominating committee, elected K. I. Dickerson and C. S. Osburn to fill two vacancies in the membership of the board. The annual election, in accordance with the constitution of the association, will be held next Tuesday, April 14, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. At this time six men will be elected to serve on the board for a term of three years. All members are urged to participate in this election. A ballot box will be kept open at the Y. M. C. A. office.

COULDN'T PASS UP $5,000 IN CASH; HAMILTON GRABS IT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—The sight of five United States notes each good for $1,000 perfectly good American dollars, was too much for Pitcher Hamilton of the St. Louis Americans. He signed a contract with the Kansas City Federals at $21,000 and the $5,000 bonus. President Hedges announced that the entire resources of the St. Louis club and the American league would be brought into play to prevent Hamilton from working for the Federals. Catcher Clemons of the same club joined the Chicago Feds.

TOTS SWALLOW MARBLES AND BOTH ARE DEAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Swampscott, Mass., April 10.—Sherman and Veryl Russ, children of about five years tried last night to see which could stuff the most marbles into his mouth. The result was fatal to both. Choking and black in the face the boys ran to their mother. She was able to extract the marbles, but the children died a short time later. Physicians they had been frightened to death.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Beginning April 11th the cafeteria will be opened to the public on Saturday evening from 5:00-6:30 p. m. for a 15c supper. Men accompanied by ladies are welcome.

Another one of the rooms in the building has been furnished for a transient room by Mrs. Frank Howard. Other liberal donations for the house have been received from Messrs. Rankin, Mitchell and Evans. Also from the Wehrle company.

Much mention has been made the past week of the fine new glassware which decorates our table. For this fine donation we wish to thank the Heisey company.

Miss Blanche Hichold, one of our house girls, surprised us on Tuesday by introducing her husband, Mr. Lavin Jones. The couple left on the noon train for Rose Farm, Ohio, where Mr. Jones is employed as a miner.

The Fifth Field Conference of the Young Women's Christian Association of Ohio and West Virginia was held in Dayton, April 2-6. There were delegates present from each of the twenty associations in these two states.

On inspiration from the states and reports, as well as to enjoy the hospitality given them by the business men.

The monthly meeting of the held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. building. Mrs. Dr. Mitchell and Miss Crosby will report on their trip to Dayton. It is hoped all members will be present.

The membership committee met for supper on Tuesday evening, followed by their business meeting. A membership campaign is being planned. It is hoped that all persons who have not renewed their membership this year will do so at the office as soon as possible. We need your help.

Miss Verna Sheppard left on Wednesday for her home in Elkhart, Indiana. She will not return to Newark.

KENWORTHY GOES WITH KANSAS CITY FEDERALS.

CROP CONDITIONS OVER THE STATE IN FAIR CONDITION

Columbus, April 10.—Wheat is in slightly better condition now than a year ago, although a little below the average for this time of year, according to the official report on crop conditions issued today by the state agricultural commission as of April 1. The condition of wheat compared with the average is 95 per cent, and a year ago was 93 per cent.

Fruit prospects are 83 per cent of normal condition at this time of year and 26 per cent, of the buds are reported killed by cold weather. A year ago only seven per cent, were killed.

The average wheat price is 93 cents compared with $1.01 a year ago. Potatoes are selling now for 85 cents a bushel compared with 57 cents a year ago.

About 3,500,000 bushels, or 14 per cent, of the 1913 wheat crop is still in producers' hands. Wheat has had six weeks of snow protection.

The crop report shows other grains as follows:

Rye—Condition compared with average 96 per cent, a year ago 94 per cent. Condition reported in corn, in crib compared with average 92 per cent, a year ago 94.

Remained on husk in field 5 per cent, a year ago 7 per cent.

Damage to unhusked during winter 14 per cent.; a year ago 17 per cent.

Damage to folder during winter 23 per cent.; a year ago 29 per cent.

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent Falling Hair and End Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.—Advertisement.

MAY REUNION TO SEE RETURN OF 76TH'S BATTLE FLAG

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Selma, Ala., April 10.—The battle flag of the Seventy-sixth Ohio regiment captured by General William Hardee's corps will be returned to Ohio representatives at the Jacksonville, Florida, reunion in May. The flag will be accepted by Governor Cox of Ohio. Recently it was presented to the Selma camp. Considerate Veterans by General Hardee's daughters, who now live in France.

MINERS MEET TO THRESH OUT THE WAGE SITUATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburgh, April 10.—Union miners of the Pittsburgh district assembled in Union Labor Temple here today to thresh out the wage situation. They were ordered by the union leaders to return to work pending the referendum vote on the acceptance of the scale, but thousands of them demurred and some local unions have been in open revolt against the order. It is said that very few of the mines are in operation. Leaders of the men declare that there is no strike, but they want the union leaders, who have been invited to attend today's meeting to explain the situation.

UNION LEAGUE PASSES RESOLUTION AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, April 1.—A resolution opposing woman suffrage in this state has been adopted by the Union League Club and forwarded to Albany. The vote it is announced was almost unanimous. Extending the suffrage "would be detrimental to the best interests of the people of the state, men and women," says the resolution.

The difference between the clothing of men and women is that men's clothes are made to put on, women's to show off.

JUDGE LOVETT RESIGNS FROM B. & O. BOARD

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company held in New York, Thursday, Judge Robert S. Lovett resigned as one of the directors and the vacancy on the board was filled by the election of W. Averhill Harriman.

Judge Lovett became a director of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in October, 1909.

To satisfy public curiosity as to how this change in the Baltimore and Ohio directorate leaves the situation between the Baltimore and Ohio and the Union Pacific, it may be stated that it effects complete official separation between the two corporations, leaving both to act in entire freedom and official independence. This places the Baltimore and Ohio on the basis of other large independent trunk lines restoring it to its former position when under the presidency of the late John W. Garrett, who was one of the dominant factors in the trunk line situation.

The recent decision in the case of the Union Pacific preferred stockholders would seem to indicate the early distributions of the actual Baltimore and Ohio shares to the common stockholders of the Union Pacific road, which place the Baltimore and Ohio stock in the hands of 18,000 to 20,000 additional owners.

BUILD FIRE IN A MOVING VAN AND WERE ASPHYXIATED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, April 10.—Three small boys crawled into a deserted moving van in a vacant lot in Harlem last night, stopped up the cracks to stop the chill and then lay around a fire they kindled in a bucket. Patrick Kenny, father of one of the little fellows, searching for him, chanced to look in the van today. He found his son, Frank, unconscious. John Scanlon, a fifteen year old companion, was dead, and the third boy was apparently dying. Gas from the bucket fire had asphyxiated them.

On Tuesday afternoon sixty-five women were entertained at the Rawlings home in West Church street, when Mrs. A. L. Rawlings and Mrs. Wayne Collier were hostesses at a thimble party. The rooms were arranged with jonquils and other Easter flowers and the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Irene Ditter and Mrs. D. C. Crider.

Mr. Tom Cramer was given a delightful surprise at his home in Prior avenue Wednesday evening by a number of his friends, wishing to remind him of his birthday anniversary. He was the recipient of many useful gifts. At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Crouthers, Mrs. Reese Evans and Mrs. Moss.

The guests were Mr. Forest Cramer, Miss Mary Freese, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neighbor and daughter Hilda, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crouther and little son and daughter Harry and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cordray, Mr. and Mrs. George Devereaux and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Moss, Mr. Byra Peters, Mrs. Reese Evans and little daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cramer, Alena Clark, Eva, Elizabeth and Charles Cramer.

On Wednesday evening Miss Ella Warrington was hostess to the R. F. and B. P. club at her home in Woods avenue. The house was charmingly decorated in colors of yellow, white and green. Games and contests were the features of the earlier part of the evening, the successful contestants being Misses Lottie Baker, Dollie Warrington and Mrs. Clarence Rutledge. At 10:30 the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty two course luncheon was served at the close of which in a most unique way the engagement of Miss Warrington to Mr. G. C. McElwain was announced, the wedding to be an event of early spring. After congratulations had been extended the guests returned to the parlor where they enjoyed a musical program by a ladies quartet, the Warrington sisters and Miss Passman, Miss Amanda Morse at the piano.

The members and guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rutledge, Misses Lottie Baker, Mary Osburn, Amanda Morse, Ada Passman, Dollie, Nora, Addie and Ella Warrington; Messrs. G. A. Warrington, G. C. McElwain, Eric Fulk and Evan Warrington.

The date of the next meeting was not decided upon as some of the members were absent on account of sickness.

BENNY-TIPPETT

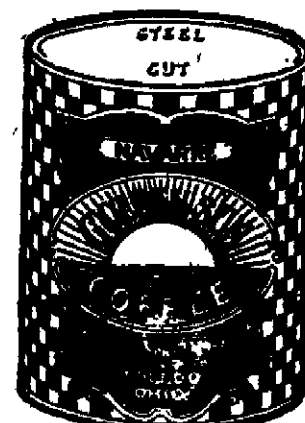

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock Dr. Sparks united in marriage Mr. George F. Benny and Miss Hattie F. Tippett, highly esteemed young people of Croton. They were married at Dr. Sparks' home and the ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Josephine Bonham an aunt of the bridegroom, and Miss Letha Wince. They will reside in Croton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Brehm, who were married Thursday at Utica, will be at home after May 16th at Stillwater apartments, Stillwater Drive, Dayton, O. Mrs. Brehm was formerly Miss Alice Marguerite Harris, daughter of Mr. Harry E. Harris, publisher of the Utica Herald.

Sense of Direction.
The apparently marvellous way in which Indians, Eskimos and other primitive people make their way through forests, snow covered areas or other regions which have little to indicate direction to white newcomers has led to a widespread belief that they possess a mysterious sixth sense of direction. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the arctic traveler, who has lived much with Eskimos, is very skeptical about the existence of any superiority of sense of direction among primitive peoples of any kind and gives strong evidence from personal experience that Eskimos have no such superiority. The ability of Indians and others to find their way he attributes solely to their familiarity with the country through which they are traveling. They note many things that they have seen before and that have no significance to the stranger in their land. White men can and do acquire the same ability to find their way when they have learned to know a country. When the land is equally strange to the white man and the Indian or Eskimo, the white man, because of his better developed reasoning power, is more likely to have a correct idea of direction than the Eskimo. —Indianapolis News.

The Literal Mind.
Man is never literal in the expression of his ideas except in matters most trivial. Very often man's words are not a language at all, but merely a vocal gesture of the dumb. They may indicate, but do not express, his thoughts. The more vital his thoughts the more have his words to be explained by the context of his life. Those who seek to know his meaning by the aid of the dictionary only technically reach the house, for they are stopped by the outside wall and find no entrance to the hall. This is the reason why the teachings of our greatest prophets give rise to endless disputations when we try to understand them, by following their words and not by realizing them in our own lives. The men who are cursed with the gift of the literal mind are the unfortunate ones who are always busy with their nets and neglect the fishing. —"Sadhana—The Realization of Life," by Rabindranath Tagore.

Tree Roots.
An article by A. Edward in the Agricultural Journal of India describes the attempts made at the Pusa experimental station to protect field crops from injury by the roots of neighboring trees, by digging a deep trench each year between the trees and the adjacent cultivated area. In the case of some trees this plan proved successful, but not in the case of others, such as the pipal, banyan and teak. When the trenches were opened up it was found that the several roots had become connected again. New roots had been formed at the cut extremity. They had grown across the trench, which was twenty-four to thirty inches wide, and united with the severed portion of the root by a process of natural grafting, followed by a rapid thickening of the connections, which attained a thickness of .8 to 1.1 inches in twelve months.

Left Her Excuse Home.
One of the chorus girls came upon the stage after the rehearsal had been under way more than a half hour. The manager said, with all the tenderness of a buzz saw:
"Do you know that you are very late? What excuse have you got to offer?"
"I didn't bring it with me," she answered.
"What?" thundered the manager.
"My excuse. I left it at home. You see, I got married yesterday, but I didn't think you wanted to see my husband."
The manager tried to suppress a grin. "We'll proceed with the rehearsal. Your excuse is sufficient."—Exchange.

Mosques in England.
There are magnificent Mohammedan mosques in England. Those at Liverpool and Woking are noted for their exquisite appointments, and there is one situated at Bayswater. The doors are gilded in a similar way to those of the world famous Taj Mahal at Agra, built by Shah Jehan. In the east end there is a sacred temple to Al Ahmed, where the faithful meet once a year to go through a curious ceremony in honor of the prophet. —London Spectator.

Another Course.
Daughter—Yes, I've passed the scholastic examination, but now I must take up psychology, philology, bibliography, Practical Mother—Stop! I've arranged for you a thorough course in roasting, pathology, stichology, dermatology, patchology and general domesticology! —Exchange.

Brutal Mirth.
Small Boy—Please doctor, will you come and see father at once? Doctor—What is the matter with father? Small Boy—He can't stop laughing, sir. Doctor—Whatever is he laughing at? Small Boy—Mother's caught her tongue in the mangle. —Person's Weekly.

Awful Effects.
Acrid like—they say don't steady dripping of water 'til wear away a stone. Dreaming Peter—Jes' tink, den, wot'd happen if a man's stomach be pourin' glassfuls inter it.

Strange Bed.
New Boarder—I didn't sleep well last night. Landlady—Strange bed, I presume. New Boarder—Jes; strangest bed I ever slept in!

What we got we must earn if it is to be truly ours. David Starr Jordan.

Pretty Homely.
London used to have an Ugly club. On his admittance to the Ugly club a short descriptive sketch of the new member was entered in the minute book. We find the picture of a clubman to the title of the ugliest man on earth in "Joseph Farmer, merchant," whose description reads as follows: "Little eyes, one bigger than the other; long nose, thin lantern jaws, large upper lip; mouth from ear to ear, resembling a shark's; a rotten set of irregular teeth which are set off at great advantage by frequent laughing; his visage long and narrow; his looks upon the whole extraordinary, haggard, odd, comic and out of the way. In short, possessed of every qualification to render him the bane of ye society, as the like won't appear again this one thousand years."—London Chronicle.

Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

Several Inquirers—The birds shown in picture No. 48 are geese. R. A. Reynoldsburg—We can not answer your questions until we write to the man who suggested pictures Nos. 8 and 16. Your question will be answered before the contest ends.

J. S. G.—There is no extra charge for postage on extra coupons. Please send your orders for any number of coupons you want and they will be sent upon receipt of 2 cents each.

Telephone—In suggesting picture No. 51 the artist was told to draw a tree but he was not told to sketch any particular brand of tree.

K. S. R. D. 7, Fredericksburg—Pack coupons are sent to you today. If you want a catalogue please send us 27 cents. The circular sent to you may help you to solve the first six pictures. You will easily catch up.

G. C. A.—The last picture will appear May 1, but two weeks or more will be allowed for people to get extra coupons, study the pictures and send in their answers. The exact time will be announced later. Out-of-town contestants will be at no disadvantage.

Mrs. W. B. S.—You are not obliged to order a full set of the extra coupons in case you want to submit extra answers for part of the pictures. For instance you may order two extra of No. 4, three extra of No. 6, four extra of No. 40, etc. You may submit from one to five answers to each picture, each answer to be upon a separate coupon.

Dr. G. H., Columbus—Geese in picture No. 48.

A. H. T.—All of the catalogues are exactly alike except in color of the covers. If any "probable answer" you see is not listed in the Advocate catalogue you may be sure it isn't right.

M. C., Black Run—In picture 46 the woman has a sword in her left hand. Send in your torn or soiled coupons and new coupons will be given to you.

Inquirer—In picture No. 45 the woman holds a cane in the left hand and upon her right arm is a "vanity case" or notebook. She appears to have nothing in her right hand.

Contestant—Your question: "Does the animal in picture No. 27 have anything to do with the book?" Must be answered by yourself.

Columbus—Many contestants are inquiring about binders for coupons. We are giving the matter attention and may soon be able to announce an inexpensive binder that will answer your purpose. Just as soon as it is perfected an announcement will be printed.

Inquirer—Sample coupons are sent to you today. It is not too late to start. Many are just starting. The last picture appears May 1, but plenty of time will be given after that so if you enter now you can soon catch up.

Inquirer—The American Tribune of Newark, is advertising "probable answers" by Solution Company of this city. The man is Dr. W. G. Corne who is studying the pictures and the catalogue. Dr. Corne has no inside information and he does not pretend to have any. He announces that he will offer 100 more answers to each picture at the close of the contest.

You never can tell. Even the fish of victory may be topped by a bull house.

Lightens Labor

The household problem nowadays is "how to secure a good servant and keep her contented." Help of this kind has become so scarce throughout the country that the maid frequently makes the terms rather than the mistress. The weekly washing is usually the "bone of contention." Up-to-date people, however, have learned that solves the laundry question. It is a pleasure to use this clean, white soap, which costs the same as common yellow soaps. It lightens labor by doing away with a lot of rubbing and scrubbing; does not injure the finest fabrics and does the work quickly, too. It is just as good for all kinds of housework.

Easy Task Soap is sold at all grocers. Price, Five Cents Per Cake.

ADVICE TO THE FAIR SEX

(By Mamie Tinkleweed.)
Dear Miss Tinkleweed:—My sweetheart has been away for several weeks. He is about to return to me, and I want to give a party for him. What do you think about it?
Grace.

Grace:—You didn't say whether you were married. If you are, don't stage the party unless it's strictly G. T.

Dear Advocate:—My new Easter gown is about complete but I don't know what kind of a hat to wear with it. The dress is pale blue satin. Ellen.

Ellen:—You've got us. All we know about hats is the price of 'em.

Dear Miss Mamie:—My gentleman friend and my sister are both out of town, but my sister's beau is here. Would it be all right for me to invite him to call? Madge D. M.

Sure, Madge. Maybe your beau and your sister are in the same town and lonesome. You never can tell.

Dear Miss Tinkleweed:—My friends all jolly me about my red cheeks. They think I use face rouge. What shall I do? M. M. T.

M. M. T.:—Be frank with them. If it isn't face rouge, tell them what kind it is. Red ink is poisonous, you know.

Dear Mamie:—My feet hurt me so nights. What is a good cure for sore feet? T. L. G.

T. L. G.:—Gracious me, don't call me Mamie. For sore feet try an occasional application of hot water, wrap your feet in septic gauze and walk on your hands for a week.

Dear Miss:—My physician has recommended beer drinking to stimulate and up-build my nervous system. Do you think it is good? Minnie.

Minnie:—Do we think beer is good? Does a fish like water? Could a grasshopper move without hops? Nothin' to it, Minnie, nothin' to it.

Dear Miss Tinkleweed:—I want to be popular. Please tell me what is the latest dance and where one may learn it. F. M.

F. M.:—Time in its flight has nothing on the speed with which new steps are created. I should say any new ladder would have a few new steps you could get.

Miss Tinkleweed:—My husband drinks. What shall I do? L. G. L.

L. G. L.:—Mortgage the old home, buy all the booze you can get, and let him finish the job quick.

Dear Miss Tinkleweed:—How can I stop snoring? I am greatly embarrassed when sleeping among friends. Ethel.

Ethel:—Maybe you don't snore and your friends are just kidding. If they're not, and you do, just quit sleeping for a while. If you don't work, try eating mush while snoring. You will have to shut your mouth to eat the mush, that shuts off the breathing and chases the breath through the nasal passage, which is not equipped with the forth-borne attachment.

HAMILTON'S DESERTION DISCUSSED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cincinnati, April 10.—President Ban Johnson of the American League and member of the National Commission from that league, met with Chairman August Herrmann of the commission here today and discussed the desertion of Pitcher Earl Hamilton from the St. Louis American League club to the Kansas City Federal League team yesterday. After a two-hour session President Johnson left for Chicago to take up the matter with the attorneys for the American league in that city. He would not state what action was contemplated, claiming that his unfamiliarity with the case in its present form prevented him from reaching any decision. Chairman Herrmann gave out this statement: No action in the Hamilton case was taken, although it was discussed as fully as possible. We cannot take any action until we are better informed regarding the case.

PRACTICAL WINDOW DEMONSTRATION OFFICE APPLIANCES.

Mr. Herman Dickerson and Mr. Paul Casnay, students of Newark High school, will demonstrate the Dictaphone and L. C. Smith Typewriter in our Arcade window Saturday afternoon and evening.
Mr. Casnay will do the typewriting direct from the Dictaphone, thus doing away with shorthand notes entirely.
If you have never seen this wonderful machine it will pay you to see it in actual operation, and we extend to you an invitation to dictate into it if you desire.
Mr. Casnay says it is no trouble at all to write a word per second, or 60 words per minute on an L. C. Smith typewriter, as its light touch and fast perfect action due to ball bearing joints aids operator to a large extent.
We hope to have the pleasure of seeing you during the demonstration and hope to have the privilege of explaining to you the respective merits of these two wonderful labor saving devices.

East and West.
In the desert you would have expected him to step out of a sheik's tent, but he actually came out of a doorway in the heart of New York's Syrian quarter. His father, a proud Arab with deep pockmarks in his face, followed. The boy had black silken hair, his skin was the color of seasoned mahogany, and his eyes danced with the fires of the east. A pretty boy—some artist may find him soon. His clothes were American, all save the soft knee boots which covered a pair of slim legs and matched his complexion. He might have been six summers, but he was very much of a man for all that.

Father and son wandered along Washington street until the way was barred by a red haired boy, whose looks spelled fight. A white arm shot out and countered. A dark fist found its mark, there was a clench, and the son of the accident went down in the gutter. The tiny Arab smiled with disdain upon the street arab, while the man of the desert granted approval and called his son to his side. —New York Post.

Nigeria's Paradise.
With no taxes to pay and no wear-some restrictions to undergo, living in a land so fruitful that a few weeks' labor is enough to supply them with food, home and clothes for a whole year, the Ekor natives of extreme southern Nigeria, on the equator, should be and probably are among the happiest people on earth, according to P. A. Talbot, African explorer, of London. "The Ekor are devoted parents," he writes. "They have curious beliefs as to the advent and death of their babies. One charming superstition forbids all quarreling in a house where there are little children. The latter, so they say, love sweet words, kind looks, and gentle voices, and if these are not to be found in the family into which they have been reincarnated they will close their eyes and forsake the earth till a chance offers to return again, amid less quarrelsome surroundings."

When England Had Duels.
Probably the last duel brought about in England through indiscretions in print was the encounter between John Arthur Roebuck and John Black on Nov. 19, 1835. Roebuck, who was then member of parliament for Bath, had issued a pamphlet bitterly attacking newspapers in general and the Morning Chronicle in particular, and for this he was challenged by the editor of the Chronicle. Black was a practiced duelist, having been out thirteen times before, but the dwarflike figure of his opponent offered a poor target, and two shots were exchanged without result. Eight years later a speech of Roebuck's in the house of commons provoked a challenge from John Somers, M. P. for Sligo. He not only declined to fight but reported the matter to the speaker, who severely rebuked the pugnacious Irishman. —London Chronicle.

Revenge.
It is recorded that once during the rehearsal of a musical comedy Mr. Charles Brookfield, the late reader of plays, came upon a composer wandering about the corridor of the theater muttering angrily to himself. "Why, what's the matter?" Mr. Brookfield asked. "You look very ferocious." The composer growled out, "As I was passing along the back of the stage just now I heard one of the scene shifters—the impudence of the fellow!—strumming one of my new songs on the rehearsal piano." "Good gracious!" exclaimed Mr. Brookfield in astonished and sympathetic tones. "Why don't you get square?" "Get square?" repeated the outraged composer. "How?" "Go and shift some of his scenery!" replied Mr. Brookfield. —London Tatler.

The Living Present.
He that hath so many causes of joy and so great is very much in love with sorrow and peevishness who loses all these pleasures and chooses to sit down upon his little handful of thorns. En joy the blessings of this day if God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly, for this day only is ours. We are dead to yesterday and we are not yet born to the morrow. But if we look abroad and bring into one day's thoughts the evil of many, certain and uncertain, what will be and what will never be, our load will be as intolerable as it is unreasonable. —Jeremy Taylor.

Remnants.
"Now, children," said the teacher to the junior class in arithmetic, "if I had nine yards of cloth and used five to make a skirt and three to make a jacket, what would I have left?" "A lot of scraps," promptly answered the little girl at the foot. —Chicago News.

Hopeless.
"We wish, madam, to enlist your aid in influencing your husband for the public good. He holds the key to a very interesting situation and—" "I don't see how I can be of any assistance to you. John never could find a keyhole." —Houston Post.

BRICK WORK ON CITY BUILDING EASILY RAZED

Workmen employed in removing the brick work on the city building, to make way for the new walls, find that the old brick yield readily to their bars and chisels. In many cases the brick and mortar require little effort to push them off the course of brick. The tower near the middle of the building where the old market bell hung for years, was entirely torn down during the day. The excavation for the basement under the Main street rooms is progressing rapidly, while the work of dismantling the interior is continuing.

Service Director Christian stated he was not sure that he had authority to lease the rooms without action by council granting such authority and that it was possible that the rooms might be leased to the highest bidder.

MANY SCALES AND MEASURES ARE INSPECTED

B. F. White, city scaler of weights and measures, inspected more than 200 scales during the month of March, according to his report filed with Mayor Bigbee. Out of this number ten were found out of order and ordered repaired while eight others were condemned. Thirty-two dry and liquid measures were inspected, all of which were approved and sealed. The scales inspected were divided as follows: Weight scales, 149, platform scales, 22; spring, 10, computing, 27.

"Recovery a Miracle"

MISS SILKEY
"I wrote you last September and described the condition of my daughter at that time," writes Mrs. Laura Gilkey, of Alamo, Ind. "She was then a nervous wreck, so weak she could scarcely stand alone, suffering from stomach, liver, kidney and womanly troubles and weighing only 70 pounds. It seemed that there was nothing for her but the grave. She began taking Dr. Pierce's Prescription and Pleasant Pellets at my first writing. Has taken such as prescribed, and today is the picture of health. She now weighs 125 pounds—a gain of just 55 pounds. Her recovery is a miracle to the people of this place as her getting well was never thought of."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

(In Tablet or Liquid Form)

has helped thousands of suffering women to Better Health, Greater Strength, Brighter Spirits, Better Looks.

The Favorite Prescription is prepared from the natural remedial herbs growing in our native forests—without alcohol, without narcotics. It is a restorative tonic. It corrects nervous irritability, exhaustion and the distressing symptoms of derangement of the feminine organs.

The Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been sold in liquid form for over forty years. It can now be had from all dealers in medicines in either tablet or liquid form—or send 50 cents in one-cent stamps and obtain a trial box of tablets by mail. Address: DR. PIERCE, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Two New Congressmen Chosen in Special Elections Tuesday

Republicans claim that the election of Drukker as a member of the house of representatives in the New Jersey congressional district, which includes Paterson and Passaic, two large cities, was a direct slap at the Panama canal tolls fight of President Wilson. John J. O'Byrne, Democrat, endorsed by the president, who upheld the stand of the administration.

tion on the tolls question, was overwhelmingly defeated. Drukker had not said anything openly on the question of tolls, but it was believed he was against the president. The district is normally Republican, but Republicans had not in recent years won by such a large plurality as Drukker's.

James A. Gallivan, chosen in place of Mayor Curley of Boston, who resigned from the house, is a Democrat who won over a Republican and a Progressive by a large plurality.

A SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR NON-SUPPORT

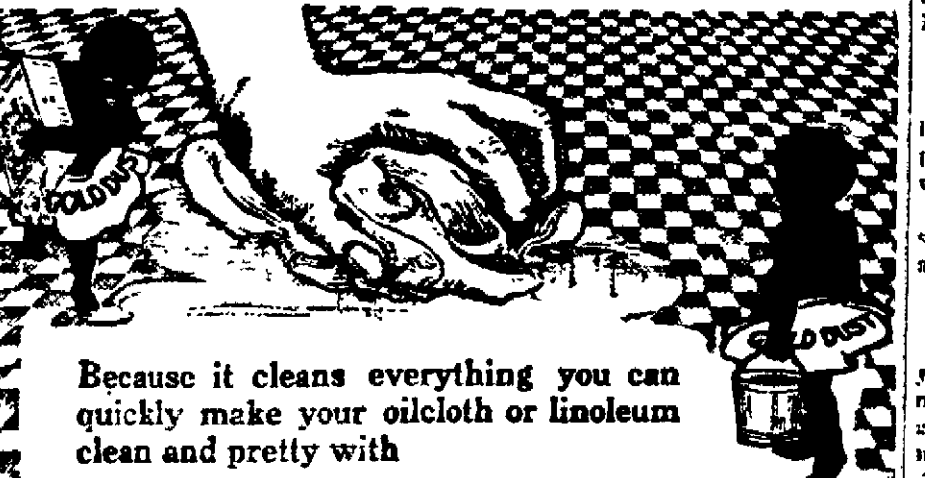

Quick operation of the wheels of justice was recorded in common pleas court, when Frank Ceroski was sentenced to a term in the Ohio penitentiary, Friday morning.

Ceroski's indictment for non-support of minor children was included in the grand jury's report Wednesday afternoon. He entered a plea of guilty Friday morning. Judge Fulton suspended sentence during such time as the defendant shall support his children. A bond of $500 was required to insure carrying out the court's order.

To Set Aside Deed.
Attorneys interested in the suit of Charles N. Moore, guardian, on behalf of William Weyant, vs. George A. Lingafelter, will argue the case to the court Saturday. The suit has been in progress for three days, and was originally brought into court in September, 1913, with Lingafelter's wife and Sarah Oakleaf as party defendants.

The action is to set aside a deed to valuable farm property in McKean township on the ground that the plaintiff's ward, a man 90 years old, was at the time of executing the deed in question incapable of understanding the import of the transaction.

Divorce Granted.
Decree of divorce, with custody of three children and $20 monthly alimony was awarded Zella L. Parker, of Newark, by Probate Judge Hunter, Friday. The action for divorce was brought against George L. Parker. Attorney C. N. Moore was counsel for the plaintiff.

NEWARK BOY RANKS FIRST

DR. CHARLES S. KIBLER.

Son of Hon. Edward Kibler who captured the highest honor of his class at Rush Medical college a few days ago, and by taking first rank among over 150 applicants, will, for the 18 months beginning next September, become one of the house physicians in Cook County Hospital, Chicago, the largest institution of the kind in America. The hospital accommodates 2,000 patients.

DECISION IS AGAINST FEDERALS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Grand Rapids, Mich., April 10.—

Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the United States district court today denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction enjoining Catcher William Killifer, Jr., from playing with the Philadelphia National league club. The judge denied the application upon the grounds that the Chicago Federal league club did not come into court "with clean hands." The decision also holds the reserve is not valid.

The decision holds that the contract of January 8, 1914 by which Killifer agreed to play with the Chicago Federal League club and the contract of January 20 which he made upon jumping back to Philadelphia National league club are "in form valid and binding upon the parties thereto."

Killifer is scored for making the contracts, the decision reading:

"This record shows that the defendant Killifer is a baseball player of unique exceptional and extraordinary skill and expertness. Unfortunately the record shows that he is a person upon whose pledged word little or no reliance can be placed and who for gain to himself, neither scruples nor hesitates to disregard and violate his express engagements and agreements."

After conceding the validity of the two 1914 contracts the decision goes to say:

"The question here presented and requiring consideration are these: 'First—Are the provisions of the 1913 contract between the defendants relative to reservation of the player for the succeeding season, valid and enforceable, and, 'Second—Are the plaintiffs' by their own conduct barred from seeking relief in a court of equity?'"

"The leading authorities with possibly one exception are agreed that executory contracts of this nature can neither be enforced in equity nor form the basis of action at law to recover damages for their breach. The reasons for the decisions are that such contracts are lacking in the necessary qualities of definiteness, certainly and mutuality."

"The 1913 contract between these defendants, relative to the reservation of the defendant Killifer, for the season of 1914 is lacking in all of these essential elements. It is wholly uncertain and indefinite with respect to salary and also with respect to terms and conditions of the proposed employment. It is nothing more than a contract to enter into a contract in the future. If the parties can then agree to a contract. Although it is founded upon sufficient consideration, it lacks mutuality because the Philadelphia club may terminate it any time upon ten days' notice while the other party has no such option and is bound during the entire contract period. A contract exists, if broken by either party the other is remediless because the courts are helpless either to enforce its performance or to award damages for its breach."

"The principle embodied in the maximum he who comes into equity must come with clean hands, is a cardinal one lying at the foundation of equity jurisprudence. The principle thus broadly enunciated is peculiarly appropriate and applicable to cases like the present one where relief will not be granted as a matter of strict right but must result from the exercise of a sound judicial discretion. Measuring and testing the conduct by this rule are the plaintiffs in court with clean hands knowing that the defendant Killifer was under a moral if not a legal obligation to furnish his services to the Philadelphia club for the season of 1914. The fact that he and by offering him a longer term of contract and a much larger compensation induced him to repudiate his contract to his employer. In so doing a wrong was done to the Philadelphia club which was done the less excusable and harmful because the injured party could not obtain legal redress in and through the courts of the land. Can it be doubted that if the plaintiffs had not interfered Mr. Killifer would have carried out his agreements with the Philadelphia club in honesty and good faith?"

"Killifer expected to derive a benefit and a profit from their contract and both knew that such contract, if performed, would work a serious injury to the Philadelphia club. The conduct of both is not only open to criticism and censure but is tainted with unfairness and injustice, if not with actionable fraud. While it is true that the plaintiffs and Mr. Killifer have entered into a legal and binding contract for the breach of which the one may be compelled to respond in damages to the other, it is also true that, because both have acted wrongfully and in bad faith a court of equity will neither adjust their differences nor balance their equities."

"The motion for an injunction must be denied; not because the executory part of the 1913 contract between the defendants was of superior or any legal force and effect; not because the contract between plaintiffs and defendant Killifer, is not in itself such a one as the courts will enforce; not because they are any equities in Killifer's favor, which excuse or exempt him from the performance of his engagements; and not because the merits of the controversy are with the Philadelphia club; but solely because the actions and conduct of the plaintiffs in procuring the contract, upon which their right to relief is and must be founded, do not square with one of the most fundamental principles of equity, which touches to the quick the duty of a court of conscience and controls its decision regardless of other considerations."

Attorney Stuart E. Knapp, local counsel for the Chicago Federal League club after receiving the decision of Judge Sessions, said that the Chicago Federal club would not probably bring suit for damages against Killifer.

Here Is Milady's Spring Walking Suit.

Fashion has decreed this jacket not be within six inches of a natural suit for walking this spring. It is stride. Of course, this makes walking very long and very narrow at the ing more difficult, and thereby causes bottom. In fact, walking in it must more exercise. But the maker of it be done with care, for the step will call it an "ideal walking suit."

GRUELING GIVEN CITY SOLICITOR OF STEUBENVILLE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, April 10.—Roy X. Merryman, city solicitor of Steubenville, proved his unfitness for the office of Attorney General by promising to conduct the work of the attorney general's office on half the funds which it takes now, said Attorney General T. S. Hogan today in a statement replying to attacks on him made yesterday by Mr. Merryman, candidate for the Republican nomination for Mr. Hogan's office.

"Mr. Merryman knows no more about what he is talking than he would how to conduct the attorney general's office if he were elected to fill that position," says Mr. Hogan. "He doubtless wanted to get his name into print by making an attack on this department. If he meant to make an honest statement, he would have referred to the increased expenses under my distinguished predecessor, every dollar of which was well spent. This department has been trying law suits and collecting debts due the state in large amounts, which should have been disposed of years ago."

Mr. Hogan quotes former Governor Harmon and Governor Cox praising the attorney general's department, conducted by Mr. Hogan for its efficiency. He says the work of counsel in his department has been praised by the bench and bar of the state.

"They are entitled to the gratitude of the state as well as to fair compensation for the long hours as well as the lamp light burned at night in protecting the interests of the state," he says.

WHEN GROUP COMES TREAT EXTERNALLY

The old system of dosing delicate little stomachs with nauseous drugs and opium syrups is wrong and harmful. Try the external treatment—Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve. Just rub a little over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The warmth of the body releases vapors of Pine Tar, Eucalyptol, Thymol, and Eucalyptol, that loosen the choking phlegm and ease the difficult breathing immediately. One application at bedtime insures a sound night's sleep. Vick's is better than internal medicines for all forms of cold troubles. Three sizes—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

FRENCH LOAN TO TURKEY APPROVED BY GOVERNMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, April 10.—The French government today signed an agreement approving of a new French loan to Turkey. In return for the loan France is to be accorded certain economic advantages. The amount of the loan and the terms have been kept secret. David Bey, former Turkish minister of finance who has been engaged in the loan negotiations for six months is to leave Paris shortly for Constantinople to arrange for a decree authorizing the transaction.

YALE STADIUM WILL BE READY FOR FALL GAME.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New Haven, Conn., April 10.—The progress made in the construction of the Yale stadium is such that Secretary Daggett today expressed confidence that the "bow" would be ready for the football game with Harvard next Fall. Collections to date amounted to $370,000. Expenditures include $100,000 for real estate and $175,000 for construction work.

TUBERCULOSIS

In addition to plenty of fresh air and proper diet, those suffering from or who are predisposed to Tuberculosis are recommended to use Eckman's Alternative to stop night sweats, banish fever, and hasten recovery. This medicine, by reason of its successful use during the past, warrants the fullest investigation possible by every sufferer. Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections, and in up-building the system. It contains no narcotics, nor harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by leading druggists. Write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. for booklet telling of recovery.

FLORIDA FRUIT CROPS DAMAGED BY HAIL STORM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Ocala, Fla., April 10.—Hail and windstorms, accompanied by a sharp drop in temperature last night did many thousands dollars damage to vegetable and citrus fruit crops throughout central Florida. Orange groves and melons and tomato fields suffered severely. Southern Florida, however, where the bulk of the peninsula's citrus fruits are produced, experienced only a cool rain. Frost in the state was confined to the northwestern section, where crops were not sufficiently matured to suffer materially.

The heaviest loss was in this section, which was swept by a storm of cyclonic proportions. Houses were unroofed, windows broken and several large orange groves destroyed. The melon crop in this and adjoining counties, the center of the melon belt of Florida, is believed to be almost a total loss.

FRUIT DAMAGE SMALL.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Macon, Ga., April 10.—Damage to fruit in Georgia's peach belt, after last night's low temperatures was small, according to advices received today. Near freezing weather was recorded in many places but a brisk wind protected fruit trees on high ground and frost was experienced only in the lowlands.

CRUDE OIL DROPS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Bartlesville, Okla., April 10.—Announcement was made here today that the pipe line companies in the Oklahoma-Kansas fields had reduced the price of crude oil from $1 to 95 cents per barrel. This reduction is the second this week and is due, it is said, to over production.

Two Sides of Matrimony

By F. A. MITCHEL

"Seems to me nowadays all de gals, instead o' wukin', are sittin' round waitin' fo' to git married. I don't hab no 'casion fo' to git married. I got 'two strong aims fo' to rub on a wash-board an' fo' to do ironin'." What I want to get married fo'?"

"Oh, pshaw, Aunt Chloe! You'd like to get married well enough if you had somebody to marry you. How about Nat Taylor, who was counting you, that Pinky Jones took from you?"

"Yo' nebbler was 'm' mistaken in yo' life 'bout dat. Nat he cum to me one day, an' he say, says he, 'Chloe, yo' don't know any gal dat would like to take care ob my house, do yo'?"

"I was fryin' bacon when he said dat, an' I jest stood with a fo'k in one hand an' looked up at de ceilin', thoughtful-like."

"Why, Aunt Chloe, didn't you understand that was a proposal?"

"Proposal to me! 'Twan't no sech thing. Nat knew well 'nuff I kin mak' my own libin', an' he wouldn't insult me by askin' me to come in an' mak' de bed an' cook de vittles an' set round an' look purty de rest ob de time. He wanted a lazy gal fo' dat."

"Well, go on with your story."

"Bimeby I think ob Pinky Jones as de mos' worthless gal I knowed, consequently de mos' likely gal fo' to get married. So I tole Nat 'bout her, an' he asked a lot ob questions. I wa'n't goin' to mak' myself 'sponsible fo' her, so I just said she war a fine lookin' gal when she war dressed up. I knowed dat would please him better'n if I said she war a good cook an' washer an' ironer, an' it did. He asked me where she war, an' I tole him, an' he went right off an' begun de cou'tin'."

"Aunt Chloe, you're very smart. You know you are. You know well enough he wanted you, but you didn't want the job yourself, and you turned him aside on purpose."

"Tah, yah!" laughed Chloe knowingly. "Reckon I didn't want de job myself. Nat war berry good man too. But what I want to git married fo', anyway? My husband 'ud pay fo' de marryin', but who gwine to pay fo' de divo'ce. I like to know? Do yo' s'pose I can affo'd to travel way out to some o' dem west'n towns an' lib dar a year or mo' fo' to git separated from some worthless niggah dat couldn't white-wash a stone wall?"

"Well, how did Nat come out with his suit?"

"How Nat come out? Why, he come out wid a flattron followin' him. It hit him squa' on de back ob de head. Mighty lucky dat. Ef it hit him in de back it might 'a' broke it. Ef it hit him in de side it might 'a' stopp'd de heart a-beatin'. De safest place fo' Nat to git hit war in de skull. You couldn't break it wid no tridin' thing like a flattron, an' dere ha'n't no brains in it to joggle."

"I thought you said Nat was a good man."

"So he is; so he is good man, but I didn't say he war a sma't man. Ef he'd been a sma't man he wouldn't 'a' married Pinky Jones."

"But didn't you recommend her?"

"Dat's jist what Nat said. He come to me wid his head all bandaged up, an' he say, 'Chloe, wha' yo' recommend dat dibbil to me fo'?"

"I didn't recommend her," I said. "I tole yo' she war a fine lookin' gal when she war dressed up."

"What was the trouble between Nat and Pinky?"

"Nat tole me 'bout dat. He said he went home to supper an' dere wa'n't no supper—de butcher didn't send home de po'k chops. Nat asked Pinky why she didn't go get de po'k chops. Pinky said she didn't git married fo' to carry home provisions. Nat said dat ef he worked all day cuttin' people's grass an' beatin' rugs he didn't know why his wife couldn't be sho to hab de supper ready. Pinky said she couldn't cook de supper when de supper wasn't sent home in de delivery wagon."

"Den Nat asked Pinky ef when she war a Georgia nigger de delivery wagon stopped at de do' ob her residence wid de provisions. Dat made Pinky mad, an' she war reachin' fo' de flattron. Nat saw blood in her eye, an' he started out to git his supper somewhere else, but de flattron tuk him in de back ob de head an' putty nigh knocked him down. He turned to Pinky an' tole her of she did dat agin he'd hab her arrested."

"Dat war de end ob de misanderstandin'. Nat he beatin' at a low down beatin' house, an' Pinky she libin' in Nat's rooms, mighty confalin'."

"Twas all your fault, Aunt Chloe. Nat came to you to ask you to be his wife, and you turned him over to the most worthless woman you know."

"Worthless! Yah, yah! Don't yo' be liebe it. Pinky's considerin' whether she gwine to study fo' to be a teacher or to write fo' de magazines. She ha'n't got no education, an' she ca'n't do teachin', so she's gwine into de literary business, I reckon."

"If you had married him he would have been all right."

"Reckon he would 'a' been all right, but wha' 'ud I 'a' been? I been givin' you de man's side ob de question. Ef I'd 'a' married Nat I'd 'a' been givin' you de woman's side. De woman when she git a worthless husband or don't agree with him, gits a lot of trouble with the almanac an' all dat. I rather fry bacon an' do washin'."

Both Commanders Perished.

A memorable sea battle in the war of 1812 was the battle between the American ship Enterprise, 10 guns and 102 men, and the British Roxer, 14 guns and 100 men. The Enterprise was commanded by Lieutenant Burrows and the Roxer by Captain Myhre. The battle occurred Sept. 4, 1812, in the bay not far from Portland, Me., and resulted in the capture of the Roxer. Both commanders being killed, the two vessels were taken into Portland on the 7th of September and anchored off shore. The confined bodies of the two commanders were rowed to shore by sailors of both ships and a public funeral services were buried side by side in the village cemetery. Burrows, then a lad of five years, and living in Portland, recalls the event in his poem "My Lost Youth," written during a visit to Portland in 1886, which he says:

I remember the sea and the tide—
How it thundered on the shore—
And the dead captains, as they lay
In their graves, o'er the tranquil bay
Where they in battle died.

Work While They Sleep.

"They call the Mexican Indians lazy," said a traveler, "but the Mexican Indian is the only man I've ever seen who works while he sleeps."

In the interior of Mexico one balmy January afternoon I came upon an Indian hut romantically situated beside a stream. A hammock of native grass was swung across a narrow branch of the stream and an Indian slept in the hammock, a tin string tied to his foot, dangling in the water.

"As I approached the string tightened with a jerk," the Indian awoke. He seized the string and hauled it in. There was a fish—three pounds' weight on the end of it.

"Here you are, Mexedest!" shouted the Indian.

"His brown wife came and removed the fish. She rebaited the hook. Then the Indian, lying back in the hammock again resumed his sleep angling act."

"Work while you sleep—I've never seen it done except in Mexico among the supposedly lazy Indians."—Exchange.

Bedouin Thief Trackers.

A curious profession among the Bedouins is that of the thief trackers. Being without paddocks or stables and their animals always more or less at liberty, theft of stock would appear to be an easy and frequent matter. Each tribe, however, has its little company of "trackers," and it would be either a bold or an ignorant man indeed who ventured to interfere with an Arab's live stock. There is one instance in which a camel stolen from a camp near Ismailia was, after weeks of labor, successfully tracked to the Sudan, where the beast was recaptured and summary vengeance wreaked upon the robbers. Selected for natural ability and trained from boyhood to discriminate between each animal's footprint, this faculty becomes so highly developed that a particular horse's or camel's trail is unerringly picked up from among the thousands of impressions on the dusty highway.

Winning a Thousand.

Some years ago a jewelry firm in New York sent the late J. P. Morgan a fine pearl, offering it to him for $5,000. This Mr. Morgan decided to purchase, and two checks were made out—one for $5,000 and the other for $4,000. He then removed the pearl from its box and, having substituted for it the $5,000 check, resealed the package. Mr. Morgan's clerk was next dispatched to the jeweler's with the sealed box and a note containing the check for $4,000, stating that Mr. Morgan would be pleased to purchase the pearl if they would be satisfied with the check. The unsuspecting jeweler—in ignorance, of course, of what the sealed package now contained—closed with the astute financier's offer. And the box in which the $5,000 check serenely reposed was returned to Mr. Morgan unopened.

Pounds and Weights.

Here is a question that will tax the arithmetical powers of a youth. Suppose that for some reason or another a shopkeeper who sold goods by pounds and half pounds, but never in quantities exceeding twenty pounds at a time, was told that he must transact all this business with four weights only. What must these four weights be? The answer is half pound, one and a half pound, four and a half pound and thirteen and a half pound. With these it will be readily seen that any weight from half a pound to twenty pounds may be determined in pounds and half pounds.

His Card Tricks.

Mrs. Stryver. We had a most enjoyable time at Mr. Hunter's tea. Count Todout was there and kept us mystified for an hour with his tricks with the cards. Mr. Stryver (glaring). He kept us mystified with 'em for three months at the club, but we're on to him now.—New York World.

Used the Soft Answer.

"So Dick and Daisy have made up?" By George! After the way she had him out I never expected it. How did he pacify her?"

"He told her that he'd rather quarrel with her than kiss any other girl."—Puck.

Sorrow.

"Herr H. come home immediately. Your wife has suffocated herself with gas." "Her—Heavens! There'll be a nice bill to pay."—Wien's Sonntagsblatt.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destriving properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet, in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with torturous itching.

By their deeds ye shall know them. You can also size a man up by the things he doesn't do.

COUNTRY WIDE SYSTEM TO NAB PICKPOCKETS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM:
New York, April 10.—The police of all the large cities in the country were asked today to help rid New York of pickpockets. The local authorities seek photographs, finger prints and histories of all the pickpockets on record in the United States.

The crusade was launched here on account of the systematic way in which the light fingered fraternity of late has escaped punishment.

Police magistrates and representatives of the police department at a conference today decided that the best way to stop this was to perfect their rogues gallery records and take advantage of a recent decision of the court of appeals which makes it legal to use the sworn testimony of a complainant even though the complainant fails to appear in court. This would frustrate the favorite scheme of pickpockets under arrest who send friends to buy off complainants or intimidate them.

LOWER TAX RATES

cal authority it purposes bringing the facts home to the budget commissioners in every county. A careful accounting will be made by the tax commission of the amount of money expended last year in the local taxing subdivisions and the amount that is necessary this year. It will be possible for every county to reduce its rate, and unless that is done the people must admit the folly of further insistence in giving to many elective officers arbitrary and plenary power. But I have no fears about the tax rate. Public opinion is a controlling factor in the life of a state, and the campaign for lower taxes will be continued with such persistence that the members of the budget commissions will understand their full duty.

The governor called attention to what he termed a well-organized effort that is being made by privileged interests to discredit progressive and humanitarian laws. He called attention to the fact that the tax commission has a wide acquaintance over the state, have been traveling about, visiting communities, calling on local newspapers and spreading reports about the tax laws. The tax commission has on the pains to investigate, and discovers that the same kind of story is used in different counties, he declared.

Answering the charge of building up a machine, the governor showed that in Atch County, among the 23 assessors, there are nine Democrats, seven Republicans, six Republicans and one Socialist. He asserted this proved conclusively that the merit system is a reality.

DENY FILM CO. FURTHER TIME TO APPEAL CASE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM:
Toledo, April 10.—Further time in which to appeal decision of Federal Judge Day of Cleveland, upholding Ohio's picture film censorship law, to the United States Supreme court has been denied the Mutual Film Corporation of Cleveland by Federal Judge Killits of Toledo. Attorney H. T. Clark of Cleveland, representing the film manufacturing company sought a temporary restraining order from Judge Killits to further delay activities of the Ohio board of censors pending an appeal to the higher court.

The state was represented in the hearing on petition by Attorney Morgan of Columbus. The Ohio state board of motion picture censors may begin actual work of examining and making rulings on films to be shown in the state directly.

THE THIN AND WEAK

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To the thin and weak W. A. Erman & Son have a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

The large sale Druggists W. A. Erman & Son have had on Samose since they first introduced it in Newark and the wonderful results following its use have made them such enthusiastic believers in its great merits that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

When a gain in weight is noticed after Samose has been used for a week or ten days, and health has improved, and you notice yourself growing stronger, you certainly should feel more than satisfied with what you have received from the small cost of 50c.
